Important Information

- Source of portfolio data: Broadridge. Source of performance data: FE fundinfo. We can't predict the future. Past performance isn't a guide to future performance. The figures shown are intended only to demonstrate performance history of the fund, after allowing for the impact of ongoing charges, but take no account of product charges. Ongoing charges may vary in the future and may be higher than they are now. Fund performance is based upon the movement of the daily price and is shown as total return in GBP with income reinvested. The value of your client's investment can go down as well as up and the amount your client gets back may be less than they put in.

Commentary

The Fund is managed against a composite benchmark, with approximately 30% of the portfolio invested in bonds. The bulk of the Fund's assets are invested in equities on a longer-term view of growth prospects, while within the bond portfolio we have limited exposure to gilts as yields are at unattractively low levels and we anticipate a period of market weakness in early 2013. Amongst the key contributors last month was bus and rail franchise operator National Express. Despite the difficult economic background, the company remains on course to meet its full year earnings target with the c2c franchise driving revenues in its rail division. In Europe, we have identified several companies whose specialty healthcare solutions significantly enhance quality of patient life. Swedish group Elekta is a good example. The company is a provider of radiation surgery equipment for cancer treatment, gained on optimism that it will continue to gain market share from rivals such as Varian Medical Systems and Siemens. We continue to favour data centre providers such as US group Equinix, which has recorded strong sales growth on the back of demand for digital technology with data storage solutions providing scope for efficient management of energy costs.
