Prudential Risk Rating

Higher Risk
 These are specialist equity funds that focus on set geographical regions or a particular type of share e.g. shares of smaller companies or those that conform to certain criteria.

These risk ratings have been developed by Prudential to help provide an indication of a fund’s potential level of risk and reward based on the type of assets which may be held by the fund. Other companies may use different descriptions and as such these risk ratings should not be considered as generic across the fund management industry.

We regularly review our fund risk ratings, so they may change in the future. If, in our view, there is a material change in the fund’s level of risk, for example due to a significant change to the assets held by the fund or in the way the fund is managed, we will provide information on the new risk rating. We recommend that you make sure you understand the risk rating of any fund before you invest.

You should also consider discussing your decision and the appropriateness of a fund’s risk rating with an adviser.

Important Information

- Some funds may invest in ‘underlying’ funds or other investment vehicles. The performance of our fund, compared to what it’s invested in won’t be exactly the same. That can be due to additional charges, cash management (needed to help people to enter and leave our fund when they want), tax and the timing of investments (this is known as a fund’s dealing cycle, it varies between managers and can be several days).

Commentary

Performance as at Q3 2024 - The fund recorded a positive return in the third quarter and was modestly behind the benchmark. Despite bouts of volatility fueled by decelerating macroeconomic indicators, shifting global monetary policy expectations and sharp movements in the Japanese yen, world equity markets registered gains in the quarter. UK equities recorded another three-month period of positive returns and outperformed the global market (in sterling terms). However, they trailed Asian and emerging market equities. The anticipated Labour Party victory in the July general election had limited impact on financial markets. Instead, investor confidence was lifted by the relatively resilient economic backdrop – gross domestic product expanded by 0.5% in the second quarter – and progress towards the Bank of England's (BoE) 2.0% inflation target. Investors welcomed the BoE's decision to cut interest rates by 25 basis points in August. Sectors that are expected to benefit from falling interest rates such as utilities and real estate were among the best performers. Energy stocks declined as oil prices fell, while technology stocks also lagged. Smaller, domestically focused companies in the FTSE 250 outperformed the larger global business in the FTSE 100. During the third quarter, we changed the assets the M&G PP UK Equity Fund invests into, to potentially generate better returns in the future whilst maintaining the current risk rating. The M&G UK Equity Fund transitioned out of the positions in the M&G PP UK Equity Dividend, UK Equity Growth and Recovery funds and has invested in the M&G (ACS) Blackrock UK Equity 200 and M&G (ACS) UK Listed Equity funds.
