

VT Chelsea Managed Cautious Growth

VT Chelsea Managed Cautious Growth aims to produce capital growth over the long term, but with lower volatility than global equities†. The fund has a target weighting of between 40% and 50% in UK and overseas equities, although it may also invest in other assets including bonds, property, gold and targeted absolute return strategies. Exposure to assets will typically be via open-ended funds, investment trusts and exchange traded funds.

Fund commentary* It was another good three months for the fund with a total return of +3.54% versus +3.94% for the IA Mixed Investment 20-60% Shares sector.* The fund slightly underperformed its sector but this follows a very strong period of outperformance in the previous three months.

After a rally at the end of last year, some markets have cooled off a bit at the start of this year. Bond markets were very quick to price in a number of interest rate cuts for 2024. However, strong US jobs numbers in January and economic strength have reduced expectations for cuts.

The US stock market has had a strong start to the year, boosted by excitement surrounding artificial intelligence. The fund's holding in Polar Capital Technology trust continues to do very well.

A number of distressed trusts recovered during the period which also benefited performance. One of these trusts was Chrysalis. This trust holds fast growing established private companies before they list on the stock market.

In December, the fund had an opportunity to buy some more shares at a substantial discount as a large holder needed to sell their position.

Chrysalis has a number of exciting prospects including Klarna, which is expected to IPO in the near future, and Starling Bank, which is growing quickly and now very profitable. It also announced it expects to sell one of its holdings in the near future, which should increase its value. Despite all this, the trust still trades on a 38% discount to its net asset value.*** The shares have now rallied 36% since the fund last bought them, but we continue to believe the trust is very undervalued.

Our property and renewable energy trusts continue to languish on large discounts, but they keep generating a lot of income. We are frustrated by their performance but we remain confident that when interest rates do start to come down they can recover. In the meantime the fund is being paid to wait with large dividends.
