Investment objective

Where a Sub-Fund's objective is to deliver a return based on the performance of an Index, it may either "track" or "replicate" the Index in question.

Sub-Fund performance, tracking difference and tracking error

In "tracking" the performance of an Index, the Investment Manager does not necessarily seek to replicate the composition of the Index (i.e. the full list of constituents in the same or substantially the same proportions as they are weighted within the Index). Instead, the Investment Manager is simply aiming to track the performance of the Index. The Investment Manager may use one or more techniques (including a combination thereof) to track the performance of an Index including (i) optimisation/sampling techniques whereby direct investments are made in physical assets and (ii) the use of FDIs such as OTC Swaps whereby a financial counterparty is engaged contractually to provide the return of the relevant Index. Optimising techniques enable a Sub-Fund to invest in (or gain exposure to) either a representative sample of Index constituents and/or assets unrelated to the Index constituents in each case where the relevant Investments (when taken together) resemble the risk and return characteristics of constituents of the Index or of the Index as a whole.

These techniques will also enable the Investment Manager to reflect anticipated changes in an Index in the Sub-Fund's portfolio (resulting in for example, Index constituents and corporate actions being reflected in the Sub-Fund's portfolio, Index constituents being sold or purchased in anticipation of those constituents being included or removed from the relevant Index, or weightings of Index constituents (vis-à-vis the actual Index composition) being varied).

In "replicating" the performance of an Index, the Investment Manager will seek to invest in (or gain exposure to) all Index constituents in the same or substantially the same proportions as they are weighted within the Index.

"Tracking error" can be defined as the volatility of the difference between the return of an Index Fund which tracks/replicates an Index versus the return of the relevant Index which it tracks or replicates, whereas "tracking difference" can be defined as the total return difference between such an Index Fund and the relevant Index which it tracks or replicates over a certain period of time.

Unless otherwise stated, an Index Fund is not expected to track the performance of its Index at all times with perfect accuracy and there can be no assurance that any Index Fund will achieve any particular level of accuracy in tracking or replicating an Index. Each Index Fund that seeks to track or replicate an Index is, however, expected to provide investment results that, before fees and expenses are applied, generally correspond to the price and yield performance of its Index.

Cash management, efficient portfolio management techniques including securities lending, transaction costs from rebalancing and currency hedging can have an impact on tracking difference. Importantly, these impacts can be either positive or negative depending on the underlying circumstances.

Global X FinTech UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund's elevated tracking error over the 6 months to 29th December 2023 is driven to the acquisition of Black Knight in September 2023. The fund booked a 15% withholding tax rate to the cash settlement of the acquisition at a different time to the index. This timing mismatch entirely explains the increase in tracking error.

Sub-Fund Review

Global X Video Games & Esports UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded negative returns during the reporting period amid geopolitical uncertainties and macro-economic headwinds. Specifically, higher inflation and interest rates adversely impacted the augmented and virtual reality space. In addition, stringent regulatory requirements, and a post-pandemic correction in consumer demand, further dampened investor sentiment about the sector. Mobile game consumer spends declined in key markets such as the U.S. and Japan, driven by return of experiential spending and elevated prices of everyday essential categories such as food and fuel. Against this backdrop, sales of VR headsets and augmented reality glasses also declined, as consumers exhibited reduced interest in these immersive technologies. Lastly, slower pace of growth in investments and reduced merger and acquisition (M&A) activity, had an impact on Sub-Fund raising and the overall financial health of the gaming industry.

Global X Telemedicine & Digital Health UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded negative returns during the reporting period due to an adverse impact of economic instability across the health care sector, largest sector the portfolio was invested in. Contracting operating margins and delayed regulatory approvals further slowed down growth and impacted the sector's financial health. Simultaneously, limited debt financing availability and ongoing volatility in the interest rate environment reduced innovation in the digital health sector which extended interoperability timelines for digital health firms. This, in turn, led to a slowdown in mergers and acquisitions (M&A) activities to consolidate and streamline the sector operations. Lastly, continued inflationary pressures increased the cost of medical equipment and pharmaceutical drugs, lowered investors sentiment towards the health care sector.

Global X U.S. Infrastructure Development UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded positive returns during the reporting period as the infrastructure sector stood resilient on account of structurally high demand for construction work and positive sentiments toward the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act (IIJA), Inflation Reduction Act (IRA), and CHIPS Act. The engineering and construction companies additionally reported higher profits, benefitting from cost reductions through the utilisation of technological advancements. Logistics spending in the United States increased as companies reoriented their supply chains in reaction to COVID-19 pandemic and conflict in Ukraine and Israel. Furthermore, push towards green infrastructure supported growth in the electrical equipment industry which lent positive stimulus to companies in the portfolio.

Global X FinTech UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded positive returns during the reporting period as fintech drove innovation in the financial services industry and reshaped the overall payment and banking system. Emerging digital technologies like 5G and artificial intelligence enabled firms to deliver more convenient digital banking experiences to their customers than traditional banks. Furthermore, advent of financial applications like digital wallets and mobile banking further enabled numerous fintech firms to address their customers' needs efficiently at a low cost. The growth in the fintech industry was additionally supported by rapid digitization and adoption of technological advancements which increased investors attraction towards the sector. Lastly, lower regulatory constraints on financial services provided by non-banking entities, enabled fintech firms to generate additional revenues for the product offerings.

Global X Robotics & Artificial Intelligence UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded slight negative returns in the second half of 2023 as China's sluggish recovery continued to weigh on the sector. China accounts for more than half of the overall industrial robotics installations worldwide yearly. Besides, reduced capital availability weighed on certain companies in the self-driving industry, such as Tusimple Holdings Inc. which was the worst performer over the period. However, industrial robot installations continued to grow worldwide over the reporting period. Robots become more affordable and sophisticated, improving precision and productivity across industries. The shift to reshoring and supply chain diversity increased demand for automated manufacturing. Similarly, generative AI technology and the rise of internet of things devices increased the prevalence of service robots, especially in delivery and healthcare.

Global X Autonomous & Electric Vehicles UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded negative returns during the reporting period amid a downward pressure in global demand for autonomous & electric vehicles (EV) which adversely impacted its manufacturers. Meanwhile, decline in battery-related commodity costs and price wars between automakers improved EV affordability, but still continued to sell at an upfront premium to internal combustion engine vehicles. Furthermore, persistent economic headwinds in China and elevated borrowing costs for consumers around the world, slowed growth of EV sales. Lastly, new capital investments and M&A activity within the autonomous and electric vehicles sector reduced, at the back of decline in investor confidence. This negatively impacted the stock valuations of autonomous vehicle manufacturing companies in the Sub-Fund.

Global X SuperDividend® UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund generated positive returns over the reporting period as eased inflationary pressures and a decline in long-term interest rates boosted investor confidence in the equities market. The reduction in pace of interest rates hikes by the U.S. Federal Reserve and other central banks, resulted in reduced borrowing costs for real estate investors, positively impacting REITs, largest industrial allocation of the fund. Furthermore, a weak dollar uplifted global manufacturing activity and simultaneous developments in Chinese economic activity increased demand for capital goods globally. Additionally, elevated oil prices and a renewed focus on energy security drove valuations of energy equities higher. The above developments led dividend paying stocks to remain an attractive option for investors.

Global X Uranium UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund generated positive returns over the reporting period as geopolitical tensions and increased demand of nuclear energy drove uranium prices upwards. Concerns of existing capacity not being enough to meet bullish long-term demand was a supporting factor for uranium prices. Moreover, Cameco, a significant uranium miner and constituent within the Sub-Fund over the course of the reporting period, announced a reduction in its production guidance. This coupled with coup in Niger, provided catalysts to supply dependability issues. These developments put upward pressure on uranium prices, positively impacting the Sub-Fund's performance during the reporting period. Lastly, geopolitics was another source of recent support, as the United States voted to approve the prohibition on importing enriched uranium from Russia, a scenario that burdened the resources of the few converters and enrichers operating in the West.

Global X Disruptive Materials UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund generated negative returns over the reporting period as uncertainty in the global disruptive materials sector weighed negatively for companies in the portfolio. Disruptive materials producers were negatively impacted by oversupplied markets in Asia and weakened demand due to global macroeconomic headwinds. Additionally, policy changes in China, including the end of subsidies on EV purchases, as well as a decline in consumer sentiment, resulted in a slowdown in the adoption rate of electric vehicles (EV). Meanwhile, solar panel installations declined over the period, as elevated cost of solar projects and shipping delays impacted the developers. Lastly, due to the debatable environmental footprints of rare-earth projects, investors remained cautious about backing such companies, detracting from the overall optimism surrounding the disruptive materials sector.

Global X Nasdaq 100® Covered Call UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund generated positive returns over the reporting period as the adoption of new machine learning platforms and advancements in artificial intelligence ("AI") technology resulted in valuation expansions for technology sector constituents within the Sub-Fund. The Sub-Fund underperformed its Reference Index during the reporting period since its covered call strategy forfeits upside potential to generate options premiums. Furthermore, volatility in the U.S. equity markets moved lower on account of strengthening labour market and moderating inflation adversely impacting the amount of premiums received from selling covered calls. However, noteworthy announcements for future national debt issuance and its changing composition contributed to the reversal of quantitative tightening, which led to increased Sub-Fund flows supporting overall returns.

Global X Genomics & Biotechnology UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded negative returns during the reporting period as continued inflationary pressures and regulatory scrutiny posed challenges for biotechnology companies. Higher interest rates led to an increased cost of debt financing for biotech companies which negatively impacted the financial health of the overall sector. Forced restructuring to prioritize operational efficiencies in order to expand cash runway and accelerate path towards profitability, reduced attention towards product innovation. Furthermore, challenges in supply chain continued to raise concerns about potential implications for drugs pricing, Medicare expenditure and innovation in medicines sectors. Lastly, M&A activities which is the main catalyst propelling the biotech sector's growth slowed amid increased scrutiny from regulatory bodies that put a hold to potential innovative products in the development stage with smaller genomics companies.

Global X Cloud Computing UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded positive returns during the reporting period due to increased adoption of cloud-based services and data storage to enhance business efficiencies. Cloud computing provided scalable resources to gather, analyse and store all kinds of data used for a variety of advanced applications and helped companies to modernize their IT infrastructure landscape. Furthermore, hyperscale cloud platforms embraced generative AI-based platform shift by enabling access to emerging technologies and cross selling cloud services to new customers. Companies operating in the cloud computing market also focused on cost-cutting measures and workforce reductions to enhance margins and improve bottom-line performance. Lastly, continued rise and use of data-heavy assets further helped drive spending on cloud computing services during the period.

Global X E-Commerce UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund generated positive returns during the reporting period as adaption of technological advancements like generative artificial intelligence (AI) supported the e-commerce industry. This enabled businesses to analyse customer patterns and have better decision-making for customer acquisition. Additionally, the rise of AI and internet penetration led to affordable online presence for traditional brick-and-mortar business models. Furthermore, synergistic implementation of online tools helped deliver personalized product recommendations to consumers and introduced efficient chatbots for customer interactions. Lastly, the expansion of e-commerce in the metaverse ecosystem enabled customers to have an immersive shopping experience which resulted in an increased customer retention and improved return on investment (ROI) for e-commerce companies.

Global X CleanTech UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund performed negatively during the reporting period as clean technology equipment manufacturers had their performance impacted by rising inflation, supply bottlenecks and elevated materials costs. Slow permitting timelines in the United States and European Union remained a significant detractor to realizing full growth potential within the wind and solar power sectors. Higher fixed costs also dampened renewables growth prospects across major markets and reduced equipment demand, particularly for the offshore wind and residential solar power segments. Furthermore, companies throughout the hydrogen value chain had their performances weighed down by elevated hydrogen prices and continued investments towards scaling production for future expected demand. As emerging themes like Artificial Intelligence and US Infrastructure took the CenterStage, shift in investor attention weakened sentiment towards renewable energy producers.

Global X Cybersecurity UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded positive returns during the reporting period as increased digitalization and interconnectedness in the economy drove growth of the cybersecurity market. The implementation of new technologies for enhanced threat detection and automation of security processes increased valuations of cybersecurity stocks. Corporations responded to the escalating trend of targeted cyber-attacks by increasing investments in security technologies that suit a cloud-native deployment model of information technology (IT). Furthermore, government spending on cybersecurity solutions was boosted by increased attacks on public infrastructure, growing digital warfare emanating from major global conflicts and emerging new possibilities with the rise of technologies like generative artificial intelligence (AI). Lastly, government programs enacted after the pandemic to broadly safeguard citizens from a complex and worsening IT landscape also helped drive the market forward.

Global X Internet of Things UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded positive returns during the reporting period as businesses benefitted through the synergy between internet of things (IoT), data analytics, and generative artificial intelligence (AI) to optimize operations and improve customer experiences. Heightened industrial and automotive demand due to increased spending on industrial automation and growing penetration of semiconductors in autonomous vehicles led to positive growth trajectory of the sector. Furthermore, increased deployments of IoT solutions amid development of robust encryption protocols and security measures supported IoT growth. Enhanced connectivity through high-speed internet, including 5G networks, provided greater network reliability and opened new possibilities for IoT applications in areas such as smart cities and healthcare. Lastly, increased adoption of IoT for grid monitoring has led electrical power companies to broaden their customer base which attracted investors attention towards the evolving technology.

Global X Copper Miners UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund performed positively during the reporting period amidst a rebound in the Chinese economy, which drove copper equity valuations upward. The reopening of economic activity in China fuelled copper demand, putting further pressure on supply and inventories. Moreover, the weakening of the U.S. dollar improved the purchasing power of copper for emerging markets and drove demand further. Simultaneously, clean energy transition policies enabled by U.S. and European policymakers increased copper demand as copper is a highly efficient conductor of electricity in renewable energy systems. However, expansion of smelting capacity by China, the world's largest processor, has led to decrease in fees charged by smelters which adversely impacted profit margins of companies and pushed the Sub-Fund's return to a considerable low.

Global X Renewable Energy Producers UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded negative performance over the reporting period, as elevated materials costs throughout the wind and solar power value chains impacted renewable energy producers. Inadequate electric transmission infrastructure and increased competition from China dampened investors sentiment in the domestic industry. Furthermore, a decline in solar installations across key markets such as the amid increased project prices, posed challenges for the solar industry developers. Notably, high polysilicon costs translated into higher costs across the entire solar power value chain, impacting demand and resulted in project delays. Lastly, in the U.S., the continued impact of change in policies for residential solar and uncertainty over tariffs at the federal level, negatively affected the stock valuations of renewable energy companies.

Global X Clean Water UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded positive returns during the reporting period as capital infusion in water technology supported the sector against the macroeconomic uncertainties. Commitment towards Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) and a simultaneous decay in U.S. water infrastructure further improved investors' sentiment towards clean water space. Moreover, despite increase in costs and other inflationary pressures, the water utility companies continued to drive consistent earnings growth and healthy dividend payouts. Implementation of water-efficient techniques led to considerable reduction in per capita water usage, which in turn, enabled companies to expand their customer bases, leading to improved profit margins. Lastly, freshwater scarcity benefitted the stocks of companies offering advanced wastewater treatment technology, as the demand for water treatment services increased.

Global X Lithium & Battery Tech UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded negative returns during the reporting period as emergence of alternative battery technologies such as solid-state batteries and advancements in lithium-ion batteries improved energy density, weakened lithium demand globally. As a result, downward pressure in the global demand for lithium negatively impacted mining companies in the portfolio. Furthermore, supply in Asian markets outpaced the rise in demand from battery users, pulling stock valuations downward. Lastly, slowdown in the adoption rate of electric vehicles (EV) in China due to policy changes, including the end of subsidies on EV purchases and a simultaneous decline in consumer sentiment, impacted lithium markets negatively.

Global X Data Center REITs & Digital Infrastructure UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded positive returns during the reporting period as increased adoption rates of artificial intelligence (AI) and growth in data usage impacted data centre REITs. Companies operating digital centres continued to perform, driven by data explosion and cloud computing tenants. This led to improved earnings and dividends distributions by companies operating digital centres. Furthermore, growth in telecom infrastructure market and increased adoption of 5G technology, generated positive revenue growth for communication service providers and uplifted market sentiment. Though inflation and an overall uncertain macroeconomic environment impacted the wider markets, stock prices of the companies maintaining data infrastructure reflected steady revenues on account of essential services provided by the sector.

Global X Blockchain UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded significant positive returns during the reporting period, driven by increased adoption of blockchain technology across various industries. Blockchain technology's distributed approach of collecting and maintaining records and allowing for higher degrees of accuracy and transparency, benefitted organisations within different sectors and segments. Additionally, with its decentralized nature, the blockchain technology also helped reduce supply chain risks and improved the overall efficiencies for both the producers and manufacturers. Furthermore, the embrace of blockchain applications expanded as banks and asset managers delved into tokenization projects, while technology companies explored innovative payment solutions using stablecoins. Lastly, global spending on blockchain solutions increased over the reporting period, that further uplifted market sentiment about the technology.

Global X Hydrogen UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund performed negatively during the reporting period as elevated natural gas prices and hydrogen supply constraints adversely impacted performances of hydrogen producers and service providers involved in the hydrogen value chain. In particular, high costs for the manufacturing of nascent electrolyser technologies weighed on electrolyser producers. Company investments into expanding manufacturing capabilities to meet expected future hydrogen demand also attributed to net losses as borrowing became expensive on account of rising interest rates, making long term contracts difficult to manage. Lastly, investor sentiment towards the sector were countered by rising demand for battery electric vehicles, as demand for fuel cell electric vehicles experienced a decline.

Global X Wind Energy UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded negative returns during the reporting period as inflation and global energy-price fluctuations, resulted in increased costs for wind-power projects. Equipment manufacturers in China and other key markets, struggled to keep up the pace with the price pressures which resulted in supply-chain backlogs. This raised uncertainty over the economic sustainability of large-scale projects from the industry's major players and negatively impacted the overall market sentiment. Furthermore, slowdown in M&A activity and lower growth of wind energy producers, turned the overall outlook on renewables asset valuation downwards. Lastly, increased competition from oil companies and a drop in prices for other forms of renewable energy additionally impacted the revenue lines in the global wind energy industry.

Global X Solar UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded negative returns during the reporting period as increased cost of solar projects and shipping delays impacted power developers with a slowdown in new solar panel installations. Uncertainty on meeting Paris Agreement commitments adversely weighed on the growth prospects of global solar power industry. Continuous expansion of production capacity across the solar equipment value chain raised concerns among investors on overcapacity. Moreover, surge in price of polysilicon, a key material in solar photovoltaic panels, had a negative impact for equipment manufacturers and their overall profitability. Furthermore, utility-scale solar installation projects declined amid supply chain constraints and labour shortages, which made the sector less attractive for investors. Lastly, low grid energy prices and higher financing costs for homeowners reduced incentives for additional demand of solar panel installations.

Global X AgTech & Food Innovation UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded negative returns over the reporting period on account of uncertainty in the regulatory landscape and unreliable supply chains within the agriculture technology (AgTech) industry. Continued inflationary pressure and rising borrowing costs strained consumer purchasing power which led to purchase of cheaper versions of staples. This resulted in reduced demand for food innovation technologies and restricted additional capital inflows to the sector. Furthermore, capital investments in the agriculture technology industry also declined, as investors preferred to move to more mature investment avenues. Lastly, companies in the AgTech sector faced adoption challenges amid lack of standard data architecture, multiple barriers to scaling and cross-platform interoperability which negatively impacted the Sub-Fund's overall performance.

Global X Silver Miners UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund generated positive returns over the reporting period as demand for silver outpaced supply majorly due to enhanced industrial applications and rising geopolitical uncertainties. Increased use of silver in photovoltaic cells and escalating conflict in the middle-eastern region attracted investors towards silver mining companies. Additionally, dovish rate expectations and improved personal consumption expenditure estimates generated confidence among producers and explorers to move forward with the operations. Furthermore, growth in silver stock valuation was also attributed to reducing U.S. treasury yields, weakening U.S. dollar and global tensions which further contributed to silver's status as a safe haven asset. Lastly, growth of electric vehicles across markets led to increased uptake of silver for commercialisation which positively impacted the revenues of silver miners in the portfolio.

Global X S&P 500® Quarterly Buffer UCITS ETF

Implementing a defined outcome strategy, the Sub-Fund aims to protect against the first 5% of losses on the S&P 500 through the purchase of a put spread each quarter. Additionally, by writing calls, the strategy aims to minimize the cost of the put spread, resulting in a capped maximum gain each quarter. During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund recorded a positive return as softening levels of inflation contributed to increased flow of funds to equity markets. Furthermore, a slowdown of interest rate hikes by the Federal Reserve ushered in a positive outlook on capital inflows for many of the Sub-Fund's top constituents. Lastly, positive inflation-adjusted wage growth in the labour market helped the U.S. economy remain resilient which improved investors' confidence in the broader market.

Global X S&P 500® Quarterly Tail Hedge UCITS ETF

Implementing a defined outcome strategy, the Sub-Fund aims to provide a 9% buffer on the S&P 500 after the first 3% of losses on the same index. During the reporting period, the Sub-Fund recorded positive return as revised market estimates of economic growth fuelled equity markets. Softening inflation and a deceleration of interest rate hikes by central banks around the world supported investor sentiment resulting in positive performance for the Sub-Fund. Furthermore, continued strength in the job market and an uptick in consumer spending improved corporate profits and benefitted companies under the Financials sector. Meanwhile, companies within the information technology (IT) sector continued to undertake cost-cutting measures to improve overall efficiencies and profit margins, which strengthened investor confidence in the holdings of the Sub-Fund.

Global X S&P 500® Covered Call UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded positive returns during the reporting period as corporate earnings largely met market expectations and reduced chances of an impending recession which drove investor confidence in U.S. equity markets. A slower pace of interest rate hikes by the Federal Reserve positively impacted the valuations of the companies held within the Sub-Fund. Simultaneously, market volatility was low, on a relative basis, and the Sub-Fund's buy-write strategy contributed to a level of underperformance relative to the Reference Index. Despite the Sub-Fund's inability to participate in the Reference Index's upward price appreciation, the Sub-Fund still managed to generate positive returns during the reporting period due to the premiums produced by its buy-write option strategy.

Global X S&P 500® Annual Buffer UCITS ETF

Implementing a defined outcome strategy, the Sub-Fund aims to against the first 15% of losses on the S&P 500 from the purchase of a put spread annually. The Sub-Fund seeks to achieve this outcome through buying and selling put options and selling out-of-the-money call options on the same index. The Sub-Fund was launched in the first half of November 2023 and recorded positive returns over the reporting period. The S&P 500 ended the year with positive returns, on hopes for further rate cuts amid slowed inflation in the country. Additionally, premiums received by selling call options also contributed positively to the Sub-Fund's returns.

Global X S&P 500® Annual Tail Hedge UCITS ETF

Implementing a defined outcome strategy, the Sub-Fund aims to provide a 30% buffer on the S&P 500, after the first 5% of losses on the same index. The Sub-Fund seeks to achieve this outcome through buying and selling put options and selling out-of-the-money call options on the same index. The Sub-Fund was launched in the first half of November 2023 and recorded positive returns over the reporting period. S&P 500 index ended the year positively amid continued strength in the job market and increased consumer spending. Additionally, the market expectation regarding end of interest rates hikes campaign by the US Federal Reserve, further improved investor confidence and supported the markets.

Global X 1-3 Month T-Bill UCITS ETF

The Sub-Fund recorded positive returns during the reporting period as ultra-short term treasury bills reflected the U.S. Federal Reserve's interest rate hikes throughout the year, raising the average yield to maturity of the Sub-Fund's underlying holdings throughout the reporting period. The Sub-Fund managed to avoid the widespread interest rate volatility that impacted interest rates on the long end of the interest rate curve during the reporting period. Throughout the reporting period, the Sub-Fund delivered consistent interest income that largely tracked prevailing short-term interest rates while maintaining a stable net asset value. Simultaneously, rising cost of capital for companies threatened their balance sheets and projected future profits which increased investors' attractiveness towards government bonds.

(b) Basis of preparation

The financial statements are presented in United States Dollars (“USD” or “US$”). The financial statements have been prepared under the going concern basis and under the historical cost convention, as modified by the revaluation of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make judgements, critical accounting estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, income, and expense. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis of making the judgements about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

(c) Changes in relevant accounting standards

Standards and amendments to existing standards effective during the period

There are no standards, amendments to standards or interpretations that are effective for the period under review that have a material effect on the financial statements of the Sub-Funds.

Standards, amendments, and interpretations that are not yet effective for the period and not early adopted

A number of new standards, amendments to standards and interpretations are effective for annual periods beginning after 1 January 2023, and have not been applied in preparing these financial statements. None of these are expected to have a material effect on the financial statements of the Sub-Funds.

(d) Significant accounting policies

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied for the period presented, unless otherwise stated.

i. Foreign currency translation

Functional and presentation currency

Functional currency is the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Sub-Funds operate. When indicators of the primary economic environment are mixed, management uses its judgement to determine the functional currency that most faithfully represents the economic effect of the underlying transactions, events, and conditions. The Board has determined that the functional currency of the Sub-Funds is USD ("US$"). Investor subscriptions and redemptions are received and paid in the currency of the relevant share class which is predominantly in USD. The expenses incurred by the Sub-Funds (including management fees, custodian fees and administration fees) are also denominated and paid mostly in USD.

Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Foreign currency assets and liabilities are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rate prevailing at the period end date.

Foreign exchange gains and losses arising from translation are included in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Net gains/(losses) on foreign exchange translation

Foreign exchange gains and losses relating to cash and cash equivalents are presented in the Statement of Comprehensive Income within 'Net gains/(losses) on financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss'.

Foreign exchange gains and losses relating to the financial assets and liabilities carried at fair value through profit or loss are presented in the Statement of Comprehensive Income within 'Net gains/(losses) on financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss'.

ii. Investments

Classification

In accordance with IFRS 9, the Sub-Funds classify equity investments, treasury bills and derivative contracts as financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss.

All of the Sub-Funds' financial assets and liabilities designated at fair value through profit or loss are financial instruments that are classified as held for trading and are considered managed investments. Their performance is evaluated on a fair value basis in accordance with the Sub-Funds' investment strategy.

All other financial assets and liabilities including cash, cash equivalents, receivables and payables are classified as being measured at amortised cost. Measurement at amortised cost takes into account any premium or discount on acquisition as well as transaction costs and fees that are an integral part of the effective interest rate. All financial assets measured at amortised cost are short term in nature and the application of the expected credit loss model does not impact the carrying amounts of these financial assets as they approximate their fair values under IFRS 9.

Recognition, derecognition and measurement

Regular purchases and sales of investments are recognised on the trade date - the date on which each Sub-Fund commits to purchase or sell the investment. Financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are initially recognised at fair value. Transaction costs are expensed as incurred in the Statement of Comprehensive Income. Financial assets are derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the investments have expired or the Sub-Fund has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership.

Subsequent to initial recognition, all financial assets, and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are measured at fair value. Realised and unrealised gains and losses arising from changes in the fair value of the 'financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss' category are presented in the Statement of Comprehensive Income within 'Net gains/losses on financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss' in the financial period in which they arise.

In accordance with IFRS 9, the ICAV applies the 'expected credit loss' ("ECL") model when determining if financial assets are subject to impairment. This impairment model applies to financial assets measured at amortised cost and an assessment is required to determine if an ECL is required. The ICAV has determined that the application of IFRS 9's impairment requirements result in no ECL impairment as the cash and cash equivalents, receivables and payables are short-term in nature.

Fair value estimation

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value of financial assets and liabilities traded in active markets (such as publicly traded derivatives and equities) are based on quoted market prices at the close of trading on the reporting date. In circumstances where the last traded price is not within the bid-ask spread, management will determine the point within the bid-ask spread that is most representative of fair value.

If a quoted market price is not available on a recognised market or from a broker/dealer for non-exchange traded financial instruments, the fair value of such investment shall be estimated with care and in good faith by a competent professional person, body, firm, or corporation (appointed for such purpose by the Board of the ICAV) and such fair value shall be determined on the basis of the probable realisation value of the investment.

The total return swap has been entered into by some Sub-Funds, and is revalued by the Administrator, reviewed by the Investment Manager, and agreed to counterparty information.

If the Investment Manager considers that the methods of valuation set out above do not provide a fair valuation of a particular asset, it may ask for the fair value to be estimated with care and in good faith by a competent person appointed by the Board of the ICAV and approved for the purpose by the Depositary.

As at 31 December 2023, the fair values of all of the Sub-Funds' investment in equities were determined by reference to quoted market prices except for investments in two securities that were suspended on trading and three securities domiciled in Russia. The two securities suspended on trading include Scilex Holding Company from Global X Genomics & Biotechnology UCITS ETF and South Manganese Investment Ltd from Global X Disruptive Materials UCITS ETF. The three securities domiciled in Russia include RusHydro PJSC from Global X Renewable Energy Producers UCITS ETF, Magnitogorsk Iron & Steel Works PJSC and Severstal PAO from Global X SuperDividend® UCITS ETF which were all written down. See Note 7 for more details.

As at 30 June 2023, the fair values of all of the Sub-Funds' investment in equities were determined by reference to quoted market prices except for investments in three securities that were suspended on trading and three securities domiciled in Russia. The three securities suspended on trading include Scilex Holding Company from Global X Genomics & Biotechnology UCITS ETF and Jervois Global Ltd and South Manganese Investment Ltd from Global X Disruptive Materials UCITS ETF. See Note 7 for more details.

iii. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash in hand, deposits held at call with banks and other short-term investments in an active market with original maturities of three months or less.

iv. Expenses

Expenses are recognised on an accrual basis.

v. Income

Interest income is recognised on a time-proportionate basis using the effective interest method. Dividend income from equity securities designated at fair value through profit or loss is recognised in the "Dividend income" line in the Statement of Comprehensive Income. Dividend income is recognised in profit or loss on the date that the right to receive the payment is established. For quoted equity securities, this is usually the ex-dividend date. For unquoted equity securities, this is usually the date on which the shareholders approve the payment of a dividend. Dividend income is shown gross of any non-recoverable withholding taxes, which are presented separately in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Securities lending income are income earned from securities lending arrangements which are accrued and paid on a monthly basis. To the extent the Sub-Funds undertake securities lending, relevant supplement will disclose the proportion of the revenue generated which will remain with the Sub-Fund and the proportion of the revenue generated (representing the attendant direct and indirect operational costs and fees of any securities lending) which will be retained by the securities lending agent.

vi. Redeemable participating shares

The Sub-Funds are open-ended and issue redeemable participating shares, which are redeemable at a shareholder's option. These shares can be put back to the respective Sub-Fund for cash equal to a proportionate share of the Sub-Funds trading Net Asset Value ("NAV") calculated in accordance with the Prospectus. These shares are classified as equity or liability, as appropriate, in accordance with IAS 32 Financial Instruments - Presentation ("IAS 32"). Typically, where a Sub-Fund has only one such share class in issue, those shares qualify for equity classification as the qualifying criteria in IAS 32.16A and 16B are met. On the other hand, where a Sub-Fund has more than one such share class in issue, those share classes do not, for example, typically have identical rights to each other and therefore those qualifying criteria for equity classification are not met. Where the criteria are no longer met, the Sub-Fund reclassifies from the date when the shares cease to qualify for equity classification. The shares, when first classified as financial liabilities, are measured at their fair value. Subsequently the redeemable shares are classified as financial liabilities at amortised cost and are measured at the present value of the redemption amounts.

A puttable financial instrument that includes a contractual obligation for the respective Sub-Funds to repurchase or redeem that instrument for cash or another financial asset is classified as equity if it meets all of the conditions below:

- it entitles the holder to a pro rata share of the Sub-Fund's net assets in the event of the Sub-Fund's liquidation;
- it is in the class of instruments that is subordinate to all other classes of instruments;
- all financial instruments in the class of instruments that is subordinate to all other classes of instruments have identical features;
- apart from the contractual obligation for the respective Sub-Fund to repurchase or redeem the instrument for cash or another financial asset, the instrument does not include any other features that would require classification as a liability; and
- the total expected cash flows attributable to the instrument over its life are based substantially on the profit or loss, the change in the recognised net assets or the change in the fair value of the recognised and unrecognised net assets of the respective Sub-Fund over the life of the instrument.

As at 31 December 2023, the following Sub-Funds have two classes of units in issue and are classified as financial liability.

vii. Distribution policy

The Directors are empowered by the Instrument of Incorporation to declare and pay dividends in respect of the shares in any Sub-Fund in the ICAV out of the net income of the relevant Sub-Fund less accrued expenses of the ICAV. The Directors are also empowered by the Instrument of Incorporation to declare and pay dividends in respect of the shares in any Sub-Fund in the ICAV out of the capital of the relevant Sub-Fund. Where a Sub-Fund intends to pay dividends out of capital this will be set out in the relevant supplement for that Sub-Fund.

It is intended to declare dividends in respect of the share classes identified as “distributing” Classes of the Sub-Funds. Distributions in respect of these Classes will be declared on each distribution date, semi-annually, in each year provided that such dates are not business days. Where dividends are paid, they shall be paid out of the net income of the ICAV which is attributable to the relevant Class and shall be paid by way of electronic transfer.

It is not the current intention of the Directors to declare dividends in respect of the share classes identified as “accumulating” Classes. The income and earnings and gains of the accumulating classes will be accumulated and reinvested in the Sub-Funds.

Further information on these securities lending arrangements is available in Appendix 2 “Securities Financing Transactions Regulations Disclosures (Unaudited)”.

xiv. Bank overdraft

Bank overdrafts are repayable on demand and form an integral part of the cash management of the Sub-Funds.

xv. Offsetting financial instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are offset, and the net amount reported on the Statement of Financial Position when, and only when, there is a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis or realise the assets and settle the liability simultaneously.

3. Taxation

Under current law and practice the ICAV qualifies as an investment undertaking as defined in Section 739B of the Taxes Consolidation Act 1997, as amended. On that basis, it is not chargeable to Irish tax on its income or gains.

Notwithstanding the above, Irish tax may arise on the happening of a “chargeable event”. A chargeable event includes:

- Any distribution payments made to shareholders by the ICAV in respect of their shares;
- Any encashment, redemption, cancellation, or transfer of shares;
- The holding of shares at the end of each eight-year period beginning with the acquisition of such shares.

No Irish tax will arise on the ICAV in respect of chargeable events in respect of:

- A shareholder who is neither Irish resident nor ordinarily resident in Ireland for tax purposes, at the time of the chargeable event, provided appropriate valid declarations in accordance with Section 739D of the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997, as amended, are held by the ICAV or the ICAV has been authorised by the Irish Revenue to make gross payments in the absence of appropriate declarations under the ICAV with the necessary signed statutory declarations; and
- Certain exempted Irish tax resident shareholders who have provided the ICAV with the necessary signed statutory declarations.

(Expressed in United States Dollar)

3. Taxation (continued)

Capital gains, dividends and interest received by the ICAV may be subject to taxes, including withholding taxes in the countries in which the issuers of investments are located, which may be reflected in the NAV of the ICAV. Dividend and interest income has been recognised gross in the Statement of Comprehensive Income, with withholding taxes recognised separately. Such taxes may not be recoverable by the ICAV or its shareholders.

The ICAV has evaluated the tax positions and has concluded that there are no significant tax positions requiring recognition, measurement, or disclosure in the financial statements. Tax penalties and interest, if any, would be accrued as incurred and would be classified as tax expense in the Statement of Comprehensive Income. During the period ended 31 December 2023 and 31 December 2022, the ICAV did not incur any interest or penalties.

4. Share capital

The share capital of the ICAV shall at all times equal the NAV of the ICAV. The Directors are empowered to issue up to 500 billion Shares of no-par value in the ICAV at the NAV per Share on such terms as they may think fit. There are no rights of pre-emption upon the issue of Shares in the ICAV. The Subscriber Shares do not participate in the assets of any Sub-Fund. The ICAV reserves the right to redeem some or all of the Subscriber Shares provided that the ICAV at all times has a minimum issued share capital to the value of €300,000.

Each of the Shares entitles the Shareholder to participate equally on a pro rata basis in the dividends and net assets of a Sub-Fund attributable to the relevant Class in respect of which they are issued, save in the case of dividends declared prior to becoming a Shareholder. The Subscriber Shares' entitlement is limited to the amount subscribed and accrued interest thereon.

The proceeds from the issue of Shares shall be applied in the books of the ICAV to the relevant Sub-Fund and shall be used in the acquisition on behalf of the relevant Sub-Fund of assets in which the Sub-Fund may invest. The records and accounts of each Sub-Fund shall be maintained separately.

The Directors reserve the right to redesignate any Class from time to time, provided that Shareholders in that Class shall first have been notified by the ICAV that the Shares will be redesignated and shall have been given the opportunity to have their Shares redeemed by the ICAV, except that this requirement shall not apply where the Directors redesignate Shares in issue in order to facilitate the creation of an additional Class.

Each of the Shares entitles the Shareholder to attend and vote at meetings of the ICAV and of the relevant Class of a Sub-Fund represented by those Shares. No Class confers on the holder thereof any preferential or pre-emptive rights or any rights to participate in the profits and dividends of any other Class or any voting rights in relation to matters relating solely to any other Class.

Any resolution to alter the Class rights of the Shares requires the approval of three quarters of the Shareholders of the Shares represented or present and voting at a general meeting duly convened in accordance with the Instrument of Incorporation.

The Instrument of Incorporation of the ICAV empowers the Directors to issue fractional shares in the ICAV. Fractional shares may be issued and shall not carry any voting rights at general meetings of the ICAV or of any Sub-Fund or Class and the NAV of any fractional Share shall be the NAV per Share adjusted in proportion to the fraction.

It is intended that all but two of the Subscriber Shares will be redeemed by the ICAV at their NAV on the dealing day on which the first issue of Shares is effected after the Initial Offer Period. The Subscriber Shares entitle the Shareholders holding them to attend and vote at all meetings of the ICAV but do not entitle the holders to participate in the dividends or net assets of any Sub-Fund or of the ICAV.

7. Fair value measurement

As the Sub-Funds' investments are classified as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, the carrying value of the Sub-Funds' investments are a reasonable approximation of fair value. The Sub-Funds accounting policy on fair value measurements is discussed in Note 2(d).

The Sub-Funds measure fair values, as defined by IFRS 13 'Fair Value Measurement' ("IFRS 13"), using the following fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements:

- Level 1: Quoted market price (unadjusted) in an active market for an identical instrument.
- Level 2: Valuation techniques based on observable inputs, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices). This category includes instruments valued using quoted market prices in active markets for similar instruments; quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets that are considered less than active; or other valuation techniques where all significant inputs are directly or indirectly observable from market data.
- Level 3: Valuation techniques using significant unobservable inputs. This category includes all instruments where the valuation technique includes inputs not based on observable data and the unobservable inputs have a significant effect on the instrument's valuation. This category includes instruments that are valued based on quoted prices for similar instruments where significant unobservable adjustments or assumptions are required to reflect differences between the instruments.

Fair values of financial assets that are traded in active markets are based on quoted market prices or dealer price quotations. For all other financial instruments, each Sub-Fund determines fair values using valuation techniques as described above.

As at 31 December 2023, all financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value were carried at Level 1 except for investments in three securities domiciled in Russia and two securities that were suspended on trading and were carried at Level 3 and total return swaps were carried at Level 2.

The three securities domiciled in Russia as at 31 December 2023 include RusHydro PJSC which represents 0.00% of the NAV of Global X Renewable Energy Producers UCITS ETF, Magnitogorsk Iron & Steel Works PJSC and Severstal PAO which represents 0.00% and 0.00% respectively of the NAV of Global X SuperDividend® UCITS ETF which were all written down.

The two securities that suspended their trading during the period 31 December 2023 include Scilex Holding Company which represents 0.11% of the NAV of Global X Genomics & Biotechnology UCITS ETF and South Manganese Investment Ltd which represents 0.15% of the NAV of Global X Disruptive Materials UCITS ETF.

As at 30 June 2023, all financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value were carried at Level 1 except for investments in three securities domiciled in Russia and three securities that were suspended on trading and were carried at Level 3.

The three securities domiciled in Russia as at 30 June 2023 include RusHydro PJSC which represents 0.00% of the NAV of Global X Renewable Energy Producers UCITS ETF, Magnitogorsk Iron & Steel Works PJSC and Severstal PAO which represents 0.00% and 0.00% respectively of the NAV of Global X SuperDividend® UCITS ETF which were all written down.

7. Fair value measurement (continued)

Transfers between levels are recognised at the end of the reporting period. There were no transfers between Level 1 and Level 3 for securities held during the period ended 31 December 2023 (30 June 2023: three).

Each Sub-Fund's financial instruments not measured at fair value through profit or loss consist of cash and cash equivalents, other assets, bank overdraft, TER fees payable and other payables whereas cash is classified as Level 1 and the rest as Level 2. These financial instruments are realised or settled within a short period of time. The carrying value of these other financial instruments approximate their fair value.

8. Derivative contracts

Typically, derivative contracts serve as components of the Sub-Funds' investment strategy and are utilised primarily to structure and hedge investments to enhance performance and reduce risk to the Sub-Funds (the Sub-Funds do not designate any derivatives as hedges for hedge accounting purposes as described under IFRS 9).

Total return swaps

Swaps are bilateral contracts entered into for periods ranging from a few weeks to more than one year. In a standard "swap" transaction, two parties agree to exchange returns (or differentials in rates of return) calculated with respect to a "notional amount", e.g., the return on or increase in value of a particular dollar amount invested at a particular interest rate, in a particular foreign currency.

Some Sub-Funds intend to invest primarily in a basket of global equity securities and equity related securities (the "Basket") and entered into an unfunded swap agreement with approved counterparties governed by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association to exchange the performance/return of the Basket for the return of the Index minus any associated fees (the "total return swaps").

The intention of these Sub-Funds is to gain synthetic exposure to its corresponding reference index via total return swaps. As at 31 December 2023 and 30 June 2023, the following Sub-Funds reported a total return swap included in the Sub-Funds' financial assets/liabilities at fair value through profit or loss in the Statement of Financial Position.

The conflict between Israel and Harakat al-Muqawama al-Islamiya (Islamic Resistance Movement) or HAMAS in Gaza escalated in October 2023. The conflict has temporarily heightened volatility in global markets, although global economic disruptions have been minimal so far. Outside of a geopolitical tail risk that could materially disrupt the market, such as a more direct engagement from Iran, the direct economic and financial implications of the tensions in the Red Sea remain unclear. The outlook for the global economy and markets is expected to be mostly driven by the upcoming Federal Reserve's rate decisions, the outcome of the U.S. presidential elections later this year, and China's economic growth.
