Market review

For the year 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023

Overview

Global equities, as measured by the MSCI World Index, rose by 22.6% in US Dollar terms during the reporting year, as inflation cooled and major central banks neared the end of their interest rate hiking campaigns. Strong interest in artificial intelligence (AI) boosted the technology sector – and broader markets – in 2023. However, bouts of uncertainty about the direction of monetary policy, coupled with anxiety about a global economic downturn, China's stuttering recovery from COVID-19 lockdowns and potential contagion from a US regional banking crisis caused significant volatility. The threat of US sovereign debt default and a potential US government shutdown – both of which were ultimately averted – also unsettled investors.

Equities

Continental Europe

In Europe, the MSCI Europe ex UK Index increased by 22.2% in Euro terms on economic optimism as inflation cooled, major central banks eased the pace of their rate hikes and the region avoided a winter energy shortage. Fears about a crisis in the banking sector in March hit sentiment, as did worries about China's recovery and tighter-for-longer monetary policy towards the end of the reporting year. The European Central Bank (ECB) announced a series of rate hikes, which helped to bring down Eurozone annual inflation from a record high of 10.6% in October 2022 to 4.3% in September. In September, the ECB raised its deposit rate by 25 basis points (bps) to an all-time high of 4.0%, although it hinted that the increase could be the last in the current cycle. The Eurozone economy expanded by just 0.1% over both the first and second quarters of 2023 as it narrowly avoided a recession. The Euro weakened against Sterling and gained against the US Dollar during the year.

UK

In the UK, the FTSE All Share Index advanced 13.8% in Sterling terms, as major central banks turned less hawkish and the economic outlook brightened. The market largely welcomed the appointment of Rishi Sunak as Prime Minister after the turmoil caused by the tax-cutting plans of his predecessor, Liz Truss. The improved sentiment helped the FTSE 100 Index hit a record high in February. Annual inflation peaked at 11.1% in October 2022 and proved 'stickier' than expected, although the pricing pressures eased as it reached 6.7% in August. The Bank of England (BoE) increased its benchmark interest rate from 1.75% to 5.25% during the year. In September, it announced its first pause in almost two years and signalled that rates could be at their peak. GDP growth was relatively subdued, at 0.3% and 0.2% over the first and second quarters of 2023, respectively. More positively, a data revision at the end of September showed that the economy had recovered more strongly than previously thought from the COVID-19 pandemic. Sterling strengthened against the US Dollar, reaching a 15-month high in mid-July amid expectations that the BoE would continue to tighten monetary policy. However, the pound subsequently weakened as the central bank appeared close to ending its rate hiking campaign.

US

US equities, as measured by the S&P 500 Index, strengthened 21.6% in US Dollar terms as a slowdown in both inflation and US Federal Reserve (Fed) rate hikes boosted sentiment. The positive mood, along with an AI-fuelled surge in technology stocks, helped the Nasdaq Composite Index achieve its best first-half performance in 40 years in 2023. The gains came despite volatility caused by the collapse of three US regional lenders, uncertainty about the US debt ceiling negotiations, the consequent threat of a government shutdown and worries about higher-for-longer interest rates. The annual inflation rate cooled from 7.7% in October 2022 to a low of 3.0% in June, although the pace subsequently picked up. The Fed raised interest rates to 5.5% – a 22-year high – from 2.5% at the start of the reporting year, and although it announced pauses in May and September, it warned of further tightening in 2023. The economy remained resilient as it expanded by an annualised 2.1% in the second quarter of 2023, down only slightly from 2.2% growth in the previous quarter. The US Dollar weakened against a basket of currencies during the year, on expectations that the Fed was nearing the end of its tightening cycle. However, it strengthened in the closing months as the central bank warned that borrowing costs could stay elevated for an extended period.

Japan

In Japan, the TOPIX gained 29.8% in Japanese Yen terms, buoyed by strong interest from foreign investors, solid economic growth and the Bank of Japan's (BoJ) continued monetary policy support. The benchmark Nikkei 225 Index reached a 33-year high in early July, having recovered from a sell-off in December, when the BoJ unexpectedly adjusted its yield curve control policy. The annual core inflation rate, which excludes fresh food prices, hit a more than 40-year high of 4.2% in January, although it cooled to 3.1% in July and August. Japan's economy grew by an annualised 4.8% in the second quarter of 2023, which was much stronger than forecast as the weak Yen boosted exports. This followed the first quarter's expansion of 3.2%. The Japanese Yen weakened against the US Dollar, with the BoJ's dovish stance helping to drag the Japanese currency to an 11-month low in September. A resurgent US Dollar added to the Yen's woes in the same month.

Asia

In Asia, the MSCI All Countries (AC) Asia Pacific ex Japan Index was up by 12.0% in US Dollar terms as China's economic reopening initially lifted the mood across the region, although signs that the recovery was stalling unsettled investors. Chinese equities performed poorly as extended COVID-19 restrictions and worries about geopolitical tensions hurt sentiment. Anxiety about the economy – second-quarter GDP growth was weaker than expected – and renewed concerns about the debt-laden property sector also unnerved investors, while stimulus measures did little to arrest the decline. South Korean and Taiwanese equities moved higher as they benefited from gains in the key technology sector. Australian shares also rose, helped by easing worries about monetary tightening, at home and abroad.

Emerging markets

The MSCI Emerging Markets Index was higher by 12.2% in US Dollar terms, on optimism about slowing interest rates, although China's uncertain recovery weighed on sentiment. Indian shares rallied as continued economic growth and foreign investor interest helped the benchmark Nifty 50 and S&P BSE Sensex indices hit all-time highs. Brazilian equities rose as concerns about the government's economic policies abated, while the economy continued to expand in 2023. South African stocks gained as GDP grew in 2023, despite persistent electricity blackouts. Turkey's market surged, buoyed by strong investment flows from domestic investors keen to protect their money from soaring inflation, while a series of large interest rate rises to combat pricing pressures helped to rekindle some foreign equity investor interest.

Fixed income

Within fixed income, the JPM Global Government Bond Index returned 0.2% in US Dollar terms. Yields on core government bond markets – including the US, UK, Germany and Japan – rose (prices fell, reflecting their inverse relationship) as most major central banks tightened monetary policy to bring inflation under control. The prospect of higher-for-longer borrowing costs caused government bonds to sell off in the latter months of the year. The yield on US benchmark 10-year Treasuries, which hit a 16-year high in September, ended at more than 4.5%, up from about 3.8% at the start of October 2022. The 10-year Japanese government bond yield increased sharply – it reached a near 10-year high in September – as investors speculated that the BoJ would ultimately need to tighten policy. Corporate bonds outperformed government bonds, taking their cue more from equity markets and as risk appetite remained largely positive.

Commodities

In commodity markets, oil prices increased as output cuts by major producers Saudi Arabia and Russia tightened supply towards the end of the year. US crude benchmark West Texas Intermediate ended up by about 14%. Spot gold prices rose – they neared a record high level in early May amid the banking turmoil – as major central banks slowed the pace of monetary tightening. However, prices fell sharply in September on expectations that interest rates would stay higher for longer and as the US Dollar strengthened. Copper prices were higher, having climbed in late 2022, although disappointment about China's relatively subdued economic growth dampened hopes that the country's economic reopening would drive a rebound in demand.

Continental European Fund

Investment report for the year from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023

Investment Fund Managers

John Bennett, Tom O'Hara and Tom Lemaigre

The fund returned 34.12% (Net) based on Class H2 in US Dollar terms over the year under review, compared with a return of 30.11% in the MSCI Europe ex UK Index, US Dollar terms.

The financial year started with a rally as a mild winter removed the risk of electricity blackouts and rationing in Europe. Since then, the market has been rangebound as it has grappled with tighter monetary policy and the potential for recession. The truth is that we – and everyone else – have no idea if, when or how deep any contraction may be. While some cracks have emerged in the hitherto resilient US consumer – causing weakness in share prices spanning areas such as clothing, luxury goods and drinks – economic activity has generally surprised positively. Accordingly, the market has had to regularly recalibrate its view of the likely duration of high inflation levels and correspondingly elevated interest rates (relative to recent history, that is).

The fund's outperformance was driven primarily by stock picking in the industrials, information technology (IT) and healthcare sectors. The main detractors came from an ill-timed move into European banks – before the collapse of Silicon Valley Bank in the US induced sell-off – and an overweight position in energy, where the oil price fall weighed on share prices. We cut the fund's overweight energy position in early 2023, although we later increased its exposure as some major producers demonstrated further supply discipline. The sector backdrop has looked increasingly resilient to us, even in a potential recession scenario.

In IT, the fund's semiconductor exposure was the most beneficial. BE Semiconductor Industries and ASM International were in favour as they both had unique technological advantages and direct exposure to growth in artificial intelligence. We took profits and reduced the holdings towards the end of the year following their exceptional performances. Another large contributor was Novo Nordisk, where data on key drug Wegovy showed that it reduced serious cardiovascular events, thereby increasing the size of its potential market and causing the share price to surge. We also had good returns from Adidas, which we added in November following a dire 'peak to trough' share price performance. We were attracted by the quality of the new CEO, who has a successful track record of company turnarounds.

The main detractor was UPM-Kymmene, which suffered due to a weak Chinese pulp market, although this stabilised towards year end. We expected the market to increasingly focus on its new Uruguayan pulp mill, which has moved the company further down the cost curve. We also had poor returns from Dutch Insurer ASR Nederland. After delivering solid results at the end of September, the market was looking forward to ASR Nederland benefiting from its merger with Aegon Netherlands. All this changed following a court ruling against mis-selling practices in the Dutch insurance industry in the late 1990s/mid-2000s. While prolonged uncertainty often comes with such legal events, the situation appeared manageable, in our view.

We added Siemens at what appeared to us to be an undemanding valuation. We believed it was a much better company compared with five years previously, with its digital industry and smart infrastructure divisions covering a number of structural growth areas. We increased the position in Danone, as we saw tangible evidence that the new CEO's strategy was working and exited the holding in Mercedes-Benz. We added freight forwarding company DSV as there were early signs that the sector was reaching a trough.

The fund's disposals included some pharmaceutical stocks and the complete sale of Carlsberg. The brewer has outperformed since we made the purchase, although the valuation became less compelling given the possibility of further changes in the senior management team.

We continue to believe in the likelihood of structurally higher inflation and elevated interest rates in the years ahead, at least relative to the decade prior to the COVID-19 pandemic. This is not to argue against the potential for near-term disinflation of a more cyclical nature, as supply shocks from both COVID-19 and the Ukraine conflict lapse. That said, we lean much more towards a central bank 'plateau' rather than a 'pivot' on interest rates, unless there is a sharp economic contraction. However, given the 'fiscal bazooka' being deployed under 'Bidenomics' in the US and the need for Europe to follow suit, we think the 'hard landing' that the market intermittently panics about may not materialise, even if the consumer moderates its appetite to spend.

In the longer term, we expect a clear shift towards a multipolar world, of which deglobalisation – and the capital-intensive likes of Bidenomics – is an outcome. We also envisage a political shift towards populist/pro-labour policies, from both the traditional left and right ends of the political spectrum, which should mean stronger wage inflation and greater labour market friction. This leads us to believe investors will need to be more sensitive to valuation when making stock-purchasing decisions. The real economy implications will present opportunities as the enablers of deglobalisation (think industrial automation, digitisation, electrification and construction materials) could thrive, while large incumbents across many industries (such as brewing, food catering and enterprise software) should see their dominant positions enhanced as the end of 'free money' tempers the threat of disruption by unprofitable start-ups. We believe Europe offers plentiful opportunities to access these themes, being home to large global champions trading at reasonable valuations.

Continental European Fund

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to provide a return, from a combination of capital growth and income over the long term (5 years or more).

The fund invests at least two-thirds of its assets in a concentrated portfolio of shares (equities) and equity-related securities of companies, of any size, in any industry, in Continental Europe. Companies will have their registered office in or do most of their business (directly or through subsidiaries) in this region.

The fund may also invest in other assets including cash and money market instruments. The Investment Manager may use derivatives (complex financial instruments) to reduce risk or to manage the fund more efficiently.

The fund is actively managed with reference to the MSCI Europe ex UK Index, which is broadly representative of the companies in which it may invest, as this can provide a useful comparator for assessing the fund's performance. The Investment Manager has discretion to choose investments for the fund with weightings different to the index or not in the index. Depending on prevailing market conditions the fund's portfolio may shift between 'high conviction' (whereby the manager will take significant risk relative to the index) and a more cautious stance. This means the performance of the fund may at times differ significantly from the index, while at other times it may be more closely aligned.

Strategy

The Investment Manager looks to anticipate catalysts for change in companies and industries based on fundamental research and thought leadership, in order to construct a portfolio of large companies complemented by mid-size company opportunities with the potential to enhance the fund's overall returns. Smaller companies are not normally a significant focus of the portfolio.

Emerging Markets Fund

Investment report for the year from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023

Investment Fund Managers

Daniel J. Graña and Matthew Culley

The fund returned 0.79% (Net), 1.81% (Gross) based on Class H2 in Euro terms over the year under review, compared with a return of 3.35% in the MSCI Emerging Markets Index and a return of 5.42% in the Target Index + 2%, Euro terms.

Global equities rallied in the fourth quarter of 2022 on hopes that moderating inflation might allow central banks to slow or potentially end their interest rate hikes. The Chinese authorities also announced the relaxation of their 'zero-COVID-19' policies, which was viewed as a potential positive development for global economic growth. Equities continued to rally in the first half of 2023, despite bouts of volatility. However, while the pace of interest rate increases appeared to moderate, most developed market central banks remained in tightening mode. This tighter monetary policy acted as a headwind for global economic growth, with implications for emerging markets.

Equities generally declined in the third quarter of 2023 amid a realisation that interest rates may remain elevated due to persistent inflation and rising energy prices. Additionally, the anticipated economic recovery in China appeared to be losing steam, adding to global growth concerns.

Stock selection detracted from relative performance during the reporting year, although country allocation decisions contributed to relative results.

Relative performance benefited from an underweight exposure to China, although several of the fund's Chinese investments were notable detractors. China's post-lockdown recovery has been weaker than expected and official stimulus measures have yet to address the economic slowdown or problems in the property sector. These economic headwinds have pressured the near-term business outlook for companies such as Linklogis, a leading detractor. Linklogis, which provides supply chain financing for small and medium-size businesses, has faced uncertainty due to weaker economic growth and reduced technology-related capital spending by banks, a critical consumer of its products. As a result, the stock declined.

Chinese e-commerce retailer JD.com was another detractor. JD.com saw significant market share gains during the pandemic, supported by its differentiated logistics footprint. As China emerged from lockdowns, however, these market share advantages started to narrow. This led the company to announce new advertising and promotional programmes that investors worried would reduce its profit margins. More recently, fears of a potential slowdown in Chinese consumer spending also pressured the stock. Despite near-term uncertainty, we believed JD.com was well positioned within China's retail space.

Relative performance benefited from the fund's investment in Structure Therapeutics, formerly known as ShouTi, as the stock has performed well since its initial public offering in January. We were early investors in ShouTi, even before the company went public, because of our positive view on its glucagon-like peptide 1 oral medication to treat obesity and type 2 diabetes. These drugs have received increased focus from investors, helping to support the stock's performance. As the name structure implies, the company is focused on applying a unique structural biology method to drug development, which it hopes may address a variety of metabolic and pulmonary indications. In addition, the company has demonstrated strong governance while establishing a track record for developing, scaling and selling biotechnology assets.

Several of the fund's investments in India were standout contributors. Indian jewellery store chain Kalyan Jewelers continued to execute well and it reported better-than-expected sales and profitability. These results helped raise market sentiment towards the company's adoption of a franchise strategy for new store development, a transition it hopes will reduce the capital intensity of the business. We also believed that Kalyan Jewelers as well placed as the jewellery retail trade is formalised in India.

We recognise that emerging market stocks could experience near-term volatility as investors try to assess the outlook for global economic growth, inflation and interest rates, along with the implications of these macroeconomic headwinds for emerging market economies. Despite this uncertainty, we remain optimistic about emerging markets relative to developed economies. Emerging market central banks started to raise interest rates before those in the US and Europe. We believe they are further along in their efforts to contain inflation and, therefore, are closer to ending their policy tightening. For this reason, we believe we could see emerging market rates stabilise sooner than in the US and Europe. We also continue to seek out longer-term trends, from innovation in healthcare to investments in electric vehicles and green energy, which are creating opportunities for emerging market companies. In addition, we believe that the reshoring of manufacturing capacity may spur stronger economic growth and investment potential in emerging markets such as Vietnam and Mexico. We think there are opportunities in the Middle East, especially in Saudi Arabia, where we see potential around the government's efforts to modernise the economy. As we look to take advantage of this broad array of opportunities, we continue to pay close attention to company and country fundamentals, as well as corporate governance. We believe this strategy may lead to favorable long-term outcomes for our investors.

Emerging Markets Fund

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to provide a return, from a combination of capital growth and income over the long term.

Performance target: To outperform the MSCI Emerging Markets Index by 2% per annum, before the deduction of charges, over any 5 year period.

The fund invests at least two-thirds of its assets in shares (equities) and equity-related securities of companies, of any size, in any industry, in emerging markets. Companies will have their registered office in or do most of their business (directly or through subsidiaries) in emerging markets. 'Emerging markets' may be countries in the MSCI Emerging Markets Index, those included in the World Bank definition of developing (low and lower middle income) economies, or which are, in the Investment Manager's opinion, developing.

The fund may invest in companies of any size, including smaller capitalisation companies, in any industry.

The fund may also invest in other assets including companies outside emerging markets, cash and money market instruments. The Investment Manager may use derivatives (complex financial instruments) to reduce risk or to manage the fund more efficiently.

The fund is actively managed with reference to the MSCI Emerging Markets Index, which is broadly representative of the companies in which it may invest, as this forms the basis of the fund's performance target. The Investment Manager has discretion to choose investments for the fund with weightings different to the index or not in the index, but at times the fund may hold investments similar to the index.

Strategy

The Investment Manager seeks consistent risk-adjusted returns (an expression of an investment's return through how much risk is involved in producing that return) by looking to identify the most attractive opportunities within countries across various stages of economic and political development. This diverse landscape requires the Investment Manager to utilise an array of perspectives to fully evaluate these opportunities. By combining fundamental company research, market and economic analysis, a keen focus on governance and quantitative input, the portfolio attempts to capture price inefficiencies across the market-cap spectrum.

Global Equity Fund

Investment report for the year from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023

Investment Fund Managers

George Maris and Julian McManus

The fund returned 6.85% (Net), 7.80% (Gross) based on Class H2 in Euro terms over the year under review, compared with a return of 11.77% in the MSCI All Country World Index and a return of 14.57% in the Target Index + 2.5%, Euro terms.

Global equities rallied in the fourth quarter of 2022 on hopes that moderating inflation may allow central banks to slow or potentially end rate hikes. Chinese authorities announced the relaxation of their 'zero-COVID-19' policy, which was seen as a potential positive development for economic growth in 2023. Stocks continued to rally in the first half of 2023, despite bouts of volatility, on hopes of less hawkish monetary policy. While the pace of interest rate increases appeared to moderate, most central banks remained in tightening mode.

Equities faced downward volatility in the third quarter of 2023, as hopes of a near-term shift in central bank policies gave way to a realisation that interest rates may remain higher for longer due to persistent inflation and rising energy prices. While US economic growth appeared resilient, there were signs of slowing activity in Europe and other markets. A weaker-than-expected recovery in China added to global economic uncertainty.

Investments in the IT and financials sectors detracted from relative returns, primarily due to stock selection. By contrast, stock selection in the energy and consumer staples sectors contributed to relative performance. From a geographical standpoint, investments in China detracted, while those in Denmark contributed.

Among individual holdings, Chinese e-commerce company JD.com was a prominent detractor. The stock declined in early 2023 after the company announced promotional subsidies to strengthen its competitive position, fuelling worries about its margins. Later in the reporting year, the stock faced additional headwinds because of China's weaker-than-expected economic recovery. Despite these economic and competitive pressures, JD.com reported solid revenue and profit growth that reflected improved supply chain management and market share gains.

Organon was another prominent detractor. The US-based healthcare company specialises in women's health, with established brands and a strong presence outside the US. Organon reported better-than-expected revenue and earnings growth for the second quarter of 2023. However, the stock price fell on investor concerns about pricing pressures and the company's elevated debt levels.

Marathon Petroleum was a top contributor to relative performance. The oil refiner delivered strong financial performance, assisted by higher-than-expected refining profit margins, higher capture rates, better-than-anticipated utilisation and strong execution trends for its commercial businesses. Investors also recognised that profit margins could remain higher for longer in the refining market, where capacity has been retired at a faster rate than has been added. We believed that this could create a favourable environment for advantaged operators such as Marathon Petroleum.

US house builder Pulte was another contributor, as demand for the company's products remained resilient despite high borrowing costs. We were optimistic about the long-term outlook for housing demand and pricing in the US, given demographic trends and structural undersupply. We continued to view Pulte favourably due to its market positioning and disciplined management team.

Portfolio management of the fund shifted during the year, and the new management team initiated a number of purchases and sales. Significant additions during the transition included Marathon Petroleum, mining company Freeport-McMoRan and mass media company Liberty Media Formula One. Positions in Novo Nordisk and Oracle were closed, as the new managers shifted capital to what they viewed as stronger opportunities in the current market environment. No derivatives were used.

We recognise that interest rates may remain higher for longer than investors had hoped at the start of this year, with implications for economic growth, corporate earnings and equity market performance. Inflation has continued to exceed policy makers' target levels, keeping central banks in Europe and the US in tightening mode. The BoJ started to relax its yield curve controls, which could lead to higher rates. While this may lead to increased volatility, we believe it could provide a rich environment for fundamentals-driven stock selection and future relative investment returns. The fund's positioning has reflected our long-held view that free cash flow and disciplined capital allocation will ultimately drive investment returns.

We continue to identify compelling pockets of opportunity around the world where we believe the potential for free-cash-flow growth is underestimated in a market distracted by macroeconomic considerations. We look to capitalise on these opportunities as we seek out companies with healthy balance sheets, expanding revenues and cash flows, sustainable earnings growth and reasonable valuations. We believe this strategy will help the fund weather near-term market volatility as it pursues long-term capital appreciation.

From 1 January 2023 Gordon Mackay no longer manages this fund. From 1 November 2022 and 1 February 2023, George Maris and Julian McManus respectively now co-manage this fund.

Global Equity Fund

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to provide capital growth over the long term.

Performance target: To outperform the MSCI All Country World Index by 2.5% per annum, before the deduction of charges, over any 5 year period.

The fund invests at least two-thirds of its assets in a concentrated portfolio of shares (equities) and equity-related securities of companies, of any size, in any industry, in any country.

The fund may also invest in other assets including cash and money market instruments. The Investment Manager may use derivatives (complex financial instruments) to reduce risk or to manage the fund more efficiently.

The fund is actively managed with reference to the MSCI All Country World Index, which is broadly representative of the companies in which it may invest, as this forms the basis of the fund's performance target. The Investment Manager has discretion to choose investments for the fund with weightings different to the index or not in the index, but at times the fund may hold investments similar to the index.

Strategy

The Investment Manager employs a 'hold forever' mind-set, with companies assessed through a long-term lens. The investment process looks to identify companies that have developed strong franchises and competitive advantages. These companies will typically operate in markets that are believed to offer sustained high levels of growth. The process focuses on the more predictable, investing in companies benefiting from long-term secular trends rather than basing decisions on unpredictable economic and political factors.

Pan European Fund

Investment report for the year from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023

Investment Fund Managers

John Bennett, Tom O'Hara and Tom Lemaigre

The fund returned 22.66% (Net) based on Class H2 in Euro terms over the year under review, compared with a return of 19.22% in the MSCI Europe Index, Euro terms.

The financial year started with a rally as a mild winter removed the risk of electricity blackouts and rationing in Europe. Since then, the market has been rangebound as it has grappled with tighter monetary policy and the potential for recession. The truth is that we – and everyone else – have no idea if, when or how deep any contraction may be. While some cracks have emerged in the hitherto resilient US consumer – causing weakness in share prices spanning areas such as clothing, luxury goods and drinks – economic activity has generally surprised positively. Accordingly, the market has had to regularly recalibrate its view of the duration of high inflation levels and correspondingly elevated interest rates (relative to recent history, that is).

The fund's outperformance was driven primarily by stock picking in the industrial, IT and healthcare sectors. The main detractors came from an ill-timed move into European banks – before the collapse of Silicon Valley Bank in the US induced sell-off – and an overweight position in energy, where the oil price fall weighed on share prices. We cut the fund's overweight energy position in early 2023, although we later increased its exposure as some major producers demonstrated further supply discipline. The sector backdrop has looked increasingly resilient to us, even in a potential recession scenario.

In IT, the fund's semiconductor exposure was the most beneficial. BE Semiconductor Industries and ASM International were in favour as they both had unique technological advantages and direct exposure to growth in artificial intelligence. We took profits and reduced the holdings following their exceptional performance. Another large contributor was Novo Nordisk, where data on key drug Wegovy showed that it reduced serious cardiovascular events, thereby increasing the size of its potential market and causing the share price to surge. We also had good returns from Adidas, which we added in November following a dire 'peak-to-trough' share price performance. We were attracted by the quality of the new CEO, who has a successful track record of company turnarounds.

The main detractor was UPM-Kymmene, which suffered due to a weak Chinese pulp market, although this stabilised towards year end. We expected the market to increasingly focus on its new Uruguayan pulp mill, which has moved the company further down the cost curve. We also had poor returns from Dutch insurer ASR Nederland. After delivering solid results at the end of September, the market was looking forward to ASR Nederland benefiting from its merger with Aegon Netherlands. This changed following a court ruling against mis-selling practices in the Dutch insurance industry in the late 1990s/mid-2000s. While prolonged uncertainty often comes with such legal events, the situation appeared manageable, in our view.

We added Siemens at what appeared to us to be an undemanding valuation. We believed it was a much better company compared with five years previously, with its digital industry and smart infrastructure divisions covering a number of structural growth areas. We increased the position in Danone, as we saw tangible evidence that the new CEO's strategy was working and exited the holding in Mercedes-Benz. We added freight forwarding company DSV as there were early signs that the sector was reaching a trough.

The fund's disposals included some pharmaceutical stocks and the complete sale of Carlsberg. The brewer has outperformed since we made the purchase, although the valuation became less compelling given the possibility of further changes in the senior management team.

We continue to believe in the likelihood of structurally higher inflation and elevated interest rates in the years ahead, at least relative to the decade prior to the COVID-19 pandemic. This is not to argue against the potential for near-term disinflation of a more cyclical nature, as supply shocks from both COVID-19 and the Ukraine conflict lapse. That said, we lean much more towards a central bank 'plateau' rather than a 'pivot' on interest rates, unless there is a sharp economic contraction. However, given the 'fiscal bazooka' being deployed under 'Bidenomics' in the US and the need for Europe to follow suit, we think the 'hard landing' the market intermittently panics about may not materialise, even if the consumer moderates its appetite to spend.

In the longer term, we expect a clear shift towards a multipolar world, of which deglobalisation – and the capital-intensive likes of Bidenomics – is an outcome. We also envisage a political shift in favour of populist/pro-labour policies, from both the traditional left and right ends of the political spectrum, which should mean stronger wage inflation and greater labour market friction. This leads us to believe investors will need to be more sensitive to valuation when making stock-purchasing decisions. The real economy implications will also present opportunities for stock pickers as the enablers of deglobalisation (think industrial automation, digitisation, electrification and construction materials) could thrive, while large incumbents across many industries (such as brewing, food catering and enterprise software) should see their dominant positions enhanced as the end of 'free money' tempers the threat of disruption by unprofitable start-ups. We believe Europe offers plentiful opportunities to access these themes, being home to large global champions trading at reasonable valuations.

Pan European Fund

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to provide a return, from a combination of capital growth and income over the long term (5 years or more).

The fund invests at least two-thirds of its assets in shares (equities) and equity-related securities of companies, of any size, in any industry, in Europe (including UK). Companies will have their registered office in or do most of their business (directly or through subsidiaries) in this region.

The fund may also invest in other assets including cash and money market instruments. The Investment Manager may use derivatives (complex financial instruments) to reduce risk or to manage the fund more efficiently.

The fund is actively managed with reference to the MSCI Europe Index, which is broadly representative of the companies in which it may invest, as this can provide a useful comparator for assessing the fund's performance. The Investment Manager has discretion to choose investments for the fund with weightings different to the index or not in the index. Depending on prevailing market conditions the fund's portfolio may shift between 'high conviction' (whereby the manager will take significant risk relative to the index) and a more cautious stance. This means the performance of the fund may at times differ significantly from the index, while at other times it may be more closely aligned.

Strategy

The Investment Manager looks to anticipate catalysts for change in companies and industries based on fundamental research and thought leadership, in order to construct a portfolio of large companies complemented by mid-size company opportunities with the potential to enhance the fund's overall returns. Smaller companies are not normally a significant focus of the portfolio.

Pan European Small and Mid-Cap Fund

Investment report for the year from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023

Investment Fund Managers

Ollie Beckett and Rory Stokes

The fund returned 16.21% (Net) based on Class H2 in Euro terms over the year under review, compared with a return of 13.97% in the MSCI Europe Small Cap Index, Euro terms.

The stock market has been largely rangebound since November last year, after rallying on relief that a cold winter would not cause a further spike in energy prices and drive a painful European recession. The debate since then has been about whether the rising interest rate environment has merely deferred the recession into 2024 as central banks have battled inflation. We are of the view that inflation should cool rapidly in the second half of 2023, although positive inflation and positive interest rates are likely to be part of the 'new normal' (the old normal for those of us who invested before 2008). That said, we think interest rates are now too constrictive on the economy and that they will need to fall somewhat in the coming quarters.

Geopolitics has continued to be volatile, with the Russian invasion of Ukraine beginning to look like a stalemate, which has given investors an excuse to ignore Europe. However, at the time of writing, valuations in Europe looked so inexpensive compared with the US such that investors have been given considerable reward for running the risk. Some commentators worry about China's ambitions towards Taiwan, which we have struggled to assess as a risk. Should China invade Taiwan, it would cause another huge disruption to the semiconductor supply chain and add another conflict to the world. We hope calm heads prevail.

The fund outperformed, although it gave back some of this performance towards the end of the year as the market punished areas of perceived cyclicality – our holdings in industrials – as well as small and medium-sized companies.

Our investment philosophy is to invest across the corporate life cycle with a mix of early-stage growth stocks, sensibly priced structural growth stocks, undervalued cash-generative mature names and self-help turnarounds. We continued to think that many growth stocks in Europe remained far too expensive, although we began to add a few names that fell to what we believed to be reasonable levels. For instance, Burckhardt Compression (an industrial compressor supplier) is very well positioned in several energy mega-trends such as liquefied natural gas (LNG), hydrogen and solar power, and has enjoyed high market shares in these areas. This strong set-up allowed the company to deliver record order intake levels and publish new ambitious targets in November 2022.

In early-cycle growth names, we added Italy-listed toolmaker Eurogroup Laminations, which is a leading global supplier of high value-add components critical for making automotive electric motors, an area that has enjoyed huge structural growth trends.

Within mature names, we added Germany-listed electric forklift truck and warehouse automation specialist Jungheinrich. The company has earned cost-of-capital returns, although the new management is focused on boosting this.

In turnarounds, we added Nordex, an onshore wind turbine developer that has been troubled by cost inflation, and Fugro, an oil services company that is increasingly moving its business towards offshore wind projects.

In a world where the cost of capital has been reset higher, we expect our activity to continue to be a mix of these different opportunities.

Our biggest performance contributor was Dutch wealth manager Van Lanschot Kempen, which has been in a unique position to drive consolidation in the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg region. Italy's BFF Bank was another noticeable contributor, as the market began to reward its strong return on equity and diligent capital return strategy. We also had good returns from glass bottling company Verallia, which has shown its pricing power by passing on its cost inflation. Other contributors included Netherlands-listed outsourced customer service company Majorel, which received a bid from competitor Teleperformance.

Detractors from performance included a combination of last year's 'winners' giving up some performance and certain stock-specific mistakes. Sweden-listed broadcaster of over-the-top media services and sport rights owner Viaplay issued a profit warning as its Nordic market slowed sharply and management's growth assumptions proved to be optimistic. Bus operator Mobico also weighed on performance. Global disruption caused by the COVID-19 pandemic and subsequent inflationary pressures have negatively affected the business, although we continued to hold the shares. Friedrich Vorwerk's (energy transportation and infrastructure) fiscal year 2022 figures missed guidance and the market's consensus expectation, largely due to the use of expensive subcontractors for unforeseen extensions on Germany's LNG projects. Despite being in an area of structural growth, the company failed to manage profitability effectively and we sold the shares.

We warned in last year's outlook that central banks could overreact by pushing rates too high into an energy shock and, unfortunately, this seems to be the case. We anticipate that inflation will continue to slow but doubt that we are going back to a zero inflation, zero interest rate world. Our fundamental belief is that considerable value remains to be found in European smaller companies, where valuation multiples look extremely attractive, in our view. As central banks react to a slowing economy by cutting rates, we think there is scope for companies that are creating economic value to benefit. We continue to believe that being valuation aware when seeking out the small-cap winners of tomorrow is a key discipline for delivering value for our shareholders.

Pan European Small and Mid-Cap Fund

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to provide a return, from a combination of capital growth and income over the long term (5 years or more).

The fund invests at least two-thirds of its assets in shares (equities) and equity-related securities of small and mid-cap companies, in any industry, in Europe (including UK). Companies will have their registered office in or do most of their business (directly or through subsidiaries) in this region. The fund will invest in small and mid-cap companies with a market capitalisation that generally falls within the bottom 50% of the Pan European market.

The fund may also invest in other assets including companies of any size, in any region, cash and money market instruments. The Investment Manager may use derivatives (complex financial instruments) to reduce risk or to manage the fund more efficiently.

The fund is actively managed with reference to the MSCI Europe Small Cap Index, which is broadly representative of the companies in which it may invest, as this can provide a useful comparator for assessing the fund's performance. The Investment Manager has discretion to choose investments for the fund with weightings different to the index or not in the index, but at times the fund may hold investments similar to the index.

Strategy

The Investment Manager focuses on meetings and calls with company management, along with the use of quantitative filters, to identify potential companies for investment. Emphasis is placed on the robustness of a company's business model, an analysis of what drives the business, what its competitive advantage is, and the sustainability of returns. The fund maintains a well-diversified portfolio of smaller companies but will also hold some companies regarded as medium sized. The liquidity of the company (the degree to which shares can be quickly bought or sold in the market at a price reflecting its intrinsic value) is important in determining whether to invest and the size of the holding for the fund.

Absolute Return Fund

Investment report for the year from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023

Investment Fund Managers

Ben Wallace and Luke Newman

The fund returned 8.54% (Net) based on Class H2 in Sterling terms over the year under review, compared with a return of 4.21% in the Bank of England Base Rate, Sterling terms.

Global equities advanced during the reporting year as major central banks neared the end of their interest rate hiking campaigns. While a shift in narrative may be on the horizon, we maintain the view that Western policy makers are keen to permanently move away from the era of cheap borrowing. Strong interest in artificial intelligence boosted the technology sector – and broader markets – in 2023. However, bouts of uncertainty about the direction of monetary policy, coupled with anxiety about a global economic downturn, China's stuttering recovery from COVID-19 lockdowns and potential contagion from a US regional banking crisis caused significant volatility. The threat of US sovereign debt default and a potential US government shutdown – both of which were ultimately averted – also unsettled investors.

The long book generated a positive return while the short book detracted during the year. A long position in France-listed advertiser Publicis was a strong performer as the company delivered revenue growth that was ahead of expectations and an upbeat organic growth forecast. CRH, a building materials supplier, was also a strong performer, thanks to its US dollar-earning tailwind and exposure to increased infrastructure spending on both sides of the Atlantic. We also saw positive contribution from the net long position in analytics provider RELX, which has been able to consistently grow ahead of investor expectations.

Conversely, a long position in Asia-focused (although UK-listed) life insurance company Prudential detracted as the sputtering macroeconomic narrative in China weighed on the share price. A long position in global media group Omnicom also detracted following a decent period, given concerns about a slowdown in technology end markets. This was offset in the short book by a position in a global peer.

Within the short book, a UK domestic life insurance company contributed notably as the market acknowledged its more-highly leveraged nature compared with peers. Meanwhile, a short position in a US-listed oil major also detracted, although this was more than offset by positive contributions from Shell and BP within the long book, and therefore a net positive sector overall. In addition, early in the reporting year, a new short position in a global consumer technology business was detrimental as US growth remained more durable than anticipated.

In terms of activity, the continuation of more logical stock dispersion led us to open a number of trades across multiple sectors. For example, we re-established a long position in car and aircraft engine manufacturer Rolls-Royce. The new management team continued to turn around the business while there was support from a continued recovery of Asian travel. In addition, we introduced new positions in Trane Technologies and Parker-Hannifin. Trane Technologies is a leading manufacturer of climate control products for heating, ventilation, air-conditioning and transport solutions that has benefited from structural demand as companies have invested to drive efficiency gains and meet environmental targets. Parker-Hannifin is a manufacturer of value-added industrial components with a relentless focus on productivity gains.

Generally speaking, we continue to find opportunities in both the long and short sides of the portfolio. In the long book, two key areas of focus are within the energy and financials sectors across both the UK and Europe. In the short book, our focus remains on industries and sectors exposed to a faltering US consumer. In addition, ample opportunities at a single stock level remain, with company balance sheets in focus against a backdrop of higher financing costs. For example, opportunities have emerged in the short book as challenges for more highly leveraged companies have become more acute amid debt refinancing plans.

Notwithstanding a tactical reduction over the summer period, the fund's gross exposure is expected to rise as the fundamental environment for long/short stock pickers improves further with greater, more rational dispersion between assets. This is particularly true along valuation lines, which is consistent with our historical experience of higher discount rates. Meanwhile, net exposure has remained lower, reflecting the balance of risks that equity markets have faced on a number of fronts. Central banks remain clear that elevated interest rates will be required for a longer period than many expect, which creates a valuation headwind (higher discount rate) as well as a higher cost of financing for many leveraged companies. However, we remain optimistic that the changes in market structure suit our investment process and gross exposure is expected to rise further as our conviction levels continue to increase.

Absolute Return Fund

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to achieve a positive (absolute) return, regardless of market conditions, over any 12 month period. A positive return is not guaranteed over this or any time period and, particularly over the shorter term, the fund may experience periods of negative returns. Consequently your capital is at risk.

Performance target: To outperform the Bank of England Base Rate, after the deduction of charges, over any 3 year period.

The fund invests in shares and makes extensive use of derivatives (complex financial instruments) to take both 'long' and 'short' positions in companies the Investment Manager believes will either rise in value (long positions) or fall in value (short positions) meaning that the fund may benefit from either scenario.

The fund will hold a significant proportion of its assets in cash and money market instruments as a result of holding derivatives and for when the Investment Manager wishes to take a defensive stance. Conversely, the fund may also employ 'leverage' (so that the fund can invest a greater amount than its actual value) when the Investment Manager has greater confidence in the opportunities available.

Typically, at least 60% of the exposure to the long and short positions (in aggregate) will be to companies of any size, in any industry, in the UK. Companies may be incorporated or headquartered in the UK, deriving significant revenue from the UK, or listed on the London Stock Exchange. Up to 40% of the long and short exposure may be to non-UK companies.

The fund may also invest at the Investment Manager's discretion in other Transferable Securities, derivative instruments and collective investment schemes (CIS). The Investment Manager may also use derivatives (complex financial instruments) to reduce risk or to manage the fund more efficiently.

The fund is actively managed with reference to the Bank of England Base Rate as this forms the basis of the fund's performance target and the level above which performance fees may be charged (if applicable). For currency hedged share classes, the central bank rate that corresponds with the relevant share class currency is used as the basis of the performance comparison and for calculating performance fees. The Investment Manager has complete discretion to choose investments for the fund and is not constrained by a benchmark.

Strategy

The Investment Manager blends core long-term and tactical short-term ideas to construct the portfolio. Ideas come from a variety of sources including proprietary research, external research and other Janus Henderson investment teams, with the intention of taking long positions in companies with unexpected earnings growth or value creation potential, and short positions in companies where earnings are priced in or where long-term value is impaired.

Global Equity Market Neutral Fund

Investment report for the period from 1 October 2022 to 25 September 2023

Investment Fund Managers

Robert Schramm-Fuchs and Tom Lemaigre

The fund fell 0.16% based on Class H2 in US Dollar terms between 1 October 2022 and 25 September 2023, when the fund closed, compared with a return of 4.68% in the US Federal Funds Rate, US Dollar terms.

In a market backdrop that remained tepid throughout September, remarkably the fund delivered positive returns for the fourth consecutive month. Central to our investment philosophy has been the prioritisation of drawdown protection. As we navigated our brief tenure as lead fund managers, our prime focus remained on safeguarding the capital invested, with the pursuit of returns being a secondary, yet significant, objective.

As September progressed, we decided to liquidate the fund prior to month end. On 11 and 12 September, we successfully closed out all stock-specific and paired positions. Even during these closing moments, the contributing managers, spanning European large cap, European value, and global properties, managed to glean some final, modest profits. However, it is worth noting that owing to liquidity constraints and past underperformance, investments from small-cap contributors had been fully redeemed prior to this period.

In a year-to-date review of the fund, global properties emerged as the top performer, closely trailed by European large-cap stocks. While European value stocks posted gains, they were noticeably subdued in comparison.

In August, European large-cap holdings spearheaded the fund's positive returns. A prime example was the profitable pairing of a long position in the industrial gases titan Linde set against a short position in a European renewable energy utility firm, which grappled with a significant profit warning stemming from impairments in offshore wind farms. Another lucrative pairing strategy involved a long position in Knorr-Bremse, a major truck and rail brakes supplier, pitted against a short holding in a European sanitary supplier. Knorr-Bremse's stock benefited from a positive reception to its capital markets day, which was hosted by a fresh management team, while the European sanitary supplier's shares suffered due to concerns about construction wholesaler inventory de-stocking and a languishing European construction market.

On a less upbeat note, the UK small and mid-cap team maintained a neutral stance in August, a consequence of consecutive months of underperformance that led to a reduced capital allocation. Likewise, both the European value and European small and mid-cap teams hovered around breakeven performance for the month.

In a review of our 2023 performance leading up to the fund's liquidation, the most notable drags came from positions in the US, from which capital was exited in early February, UK small and mid caps, and European small and mid caps, with capital pulled from the latter two in August. Furthermore, the resources team faced a pronounced drawdown in January following an extended period of underperformance, prompting a capital withdrawal at month's end. Despite the commendable efforts of our top three contributors, they were unable to offset the setbacks from these detracting segments. We extend our gratitude to our former investors for their trust and endurance and regrettably acknowledge our shortfall in delivering the anticipated returns.

The fund closed on 25 September 2023.

Global Equity Market Neutral Fund

Investment objective and policy as at 25 September 2023

The fund aims to achieve a positive (absolute) return, regardless of market conditions, over any 12 month period. A positive return is not guaranteed over this or any other time period and, particularly over the shorter term, the fund may experience periods of negative returns. Consequently, your capital is at risk.

Performance target: To outperform the US Federal Funds Rate, after the deduction of charges, over any 3 year period.

The fund invests in shares and makes extensive use of derivatives (complex financial instruments) to take both 'long' and 'short' positions in companies throughout the world that the Investment Manager believes will either rise in value (long positions) or fall in value (short positions) meaning that the fund may benefit from either scenario.

Typically, the fund will match each long position in a company with an equivalent sized short position in another company (known as a 'pair'), with the aim of benefitting from price divergence between the long and short exposures of the pair, while minimising the effect of wider market movements. The fund will hold a significant proportion of its assets in cash and money market instruments as a result of holding derivatives.

The Investment Manager may also use derivatives (complex financial instruments) to reduce risk or to manage the fund more efficiently.

The fund is actively managed with reference to the US Federal Funds Rate as this forms the basis of the fund's performance target and the level above which performance fees may be charged (if applicable). For currency hedged share classes, the central bank rate that corresponds with the relevant share class currency is used as the basis of the performance comparison and for calculating performance fees. The Investment Manager has complete discretion to choose investments for the fund and is not constrained by a benchmark.

Strategy

The Investment Manager targets positive returns, with low correlation to movements in stock markets. Returns are sought through balancing positions in companies with attractive prospects (long positions) with positions in companies with unattractive prospects (short positions), thereby attempting to isolate the fund from moves within equity markets more widely. The process captures the best ideas from across Janus Henderson's equity teams globally.

Global Multi-Strategy Fund

Investment report for the year from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023

Investment Fund Managers

David Elms and Steve Cain

The fund returned 1.44% (Net), 2.60% (Gross) based on Class H2 in Euro terms over the year under review, compared with a return of 3.20% in the Euro Main Refinancing Rate and a return of 10.42% in the Target Index + 7%, Euro terms.

Looking at returns by strategy, Convertible Arbitrage started the reporting year with very low risk levels, as the convertible bond market was beset by rising interest rates and widening credit spreads, which meant that primary markets were very quiet. However, issuance picked up towards the end of the year, which benefited the fund. The bulk of the positive contribution came during the second and third quarters of 2023 and included strong performance from Siemens' mandatory convertible bond as well as a diversified basket of European additional tier 1 (AT1) bonds. We added AT1 bonds, which are a type of debt that banks issue, amid weakness in the market following Swiss bank UBS' takeover of collapsed rival Credit Suisse.

Within Event Driven, merger arbitrage benefited from US businessman Elon Musk's purchase of Twitter and Philips Morris's acquisition of Swedish Match. Elsewhere, spreads generally narrowed as deals closed. However, the collapse of the acquisition of John Wood detracted. Within capital structure positions, share class spread positions were generally positive as discounts narrowed.

Protection, however, was disappointing and sharply negative for performance. The negative 'carry' during the year was larger than expected, due to both our bearish outlook and higher carry cost in our systematic strategies. The trend following sub-strategy was the biggest detractor, as short risk asset positioning towards the end of 2022 weighed on returns as risk assets rallied into year end. The current calendar year has also been challenging, due to positioning around the collapse of Silicon Valley Bank (SVB) in the US, and more recently as financial and commodity markets have exhibited a lack of meaningful trends. The discretionary long convexity macro sub-strategy was negative as an overall bearish outlook on markets and economics was a drag on returns through the general market rally. The systematic long volatility sub-strategy also hampered performance, as market volatility failed to move with changes in spot prices. We have moderated the sub-strategy's exposure and increased diversification.

The fixed income price pressure sub-strategy also faced strong headwinds during the first half of the period as macro events around bond auctions dominated the micro inefficiency from which we seek to benefit. As such, we took the decision to significantly reduce position sizes across all auctions. However, rising government bond yields spurred deeper discounts, which led us to increase position sizes and an improved performance as 2023 progressed. The equity price pressure sub-strategy was a modest contributor, although it was impacted by reduced activity levels. However, there were encouraging signs towards the end of the year as activity picked up.

On a positive note, the Risk Transfer strategy was strongly positive. We used the underperformance of dividends versus their beta hedge in March following the SVB collapse to add to positioning. This worked well as dividends rallied, and also contributed as they outperformed their market hedges. A decision to move the fund to be short equity repo was also positive. We started to add back to carry trades in the third quarter of 2023 as the rate again offered attractive returns.

We launched a new strategy at the start of 2023, the FICC RV strategy (Fixed Income, Currency and Commodity Relative Value). Within the fixed income part of this new strategy, a curve steepening trade to benefit from a narrowing in the 40-year high differential between the 2-year and 10-year US Treasury yields was very positive. At the end of the year, we added this back into the strategy, as the yield differential had widened, and subsequently closed the trade out with a profit. Performance within the commodity alpha sub-strategy in 2023 was initially weak as positioning across energy and soft commodities detracted, although this improved during the summer months.

Finally, the Equity Market Neutral Strategy initially benefited from a recovery in cyclical stocks as the new UK Prime Minister and chancellor implemented measures to stabilise the economy. We sold down this cyclical exposure into strong performance, which worked well during the mini-banking crisis in March, and we started to add to cyclicals again. As concerns about a UK recession increased, we reduced cyclical exposure and added to defensive value. However, this detracted as the BoE hiked interest rates and growth outperformed. This momentum turned sharply as inflation trends eased in the third quarter of 2023, as value cyclicals and interest rate-sensitive stocks outperformed.

While the fund's multi-strategy approach continued to demonstrate little correlation to equity and fixed income markets, performance – while positive – was disappointing in the context of its return target and longer-term returns. The rising interest rate environment has been a headwind for the fund as it has meant the spreads from which we seek to benefit have generally widened, and Protection has been too costly. However, the improved opportunity set underpinned by higher interest rates – the transition from quantitative easing to quantitative tightening – remains a strong, positive undercurrent for our strategies and has provided opportunities to increase risk exposures, which produced strong returns towards the end of the year. Additionally, carry within the systematic long volatility sub-strategy has improved, giving us the ability to deploy capital counter cyclically if the market environment should quickly deteriorate, which we continue to see as an underpriced possibility for risk assets.

Global Multi-Strategy Fund

Investment objective and policy

The fund aims to provide a positive (absolute) return, regardless of market conditions, over any 12 month period. A positive return is not guaranteed over this or any other time period and, particularly over the shorter term, the fund may experience periods of negative returns. Consequently your capital is at risk.

Performance target: To outperform the Euro Main Refinancing Rate by 7% per annum, before the deduction of charges, over any 3 year period.

The fund invests in a global portfolio of assets including shares of companies, investment grade and non-investment grade bonds issued by governments and companies (including convertible bonds, contingent convertible bonds and distressed securities), and makes extensive use of derivatives (complex financial instruments), including total return swaps, to take both 'long' and 'short' positions in companies and bonds that the Investment Manager believes will either rise in value (long positions) or fall in value (short positions) meaning that the fund may benefit from either scenario.

The fund may invest up to 10% of its net assets in special purpose acquisition companies (SPACs).

The fund will hold a significant proportion of its assets in cash, near cash, bank deposits and/or money market instruments as a result of holding derivatives or for asset allocation purposes.

The fund may also take long or short exposures to other asset classes such as commodities and may hold other funds (such as CIS and exchange traded funds).

The Investment Manager may also use derivatives (complex financial instruments) to reduce risk or to manage the fund more efficiently.

The fund is actively managed and makes reference to the Euro Main Refinancing Rate, as this forms the basis of the fund's performance target and the level above which performance fees may be charged (if applicable). For currency hedged share classes, the rate that corresponds with the relevant share class currency is used as the basis of the performance comparison and for calculating performance fees. The Investment Manager has complete discretion to choose investments for the fund and is not constrained by a benchmark.

Strategy

The Investment Manager adopts a multi-strategy approach, utilising a diverse range of investment styles, techniques, assets, company sizes, time horizons and markets with the aim of providing a positive return. Long positions may be held through a combination of direct investment and/or derivative instruments, whilst the short positions are achieved entirely through derivative instruments. The use of derivatives is extensive and forms an important part of the investment strategy.

Equity Sub-funds

The Equity sub-funds aim to provide capital growth over the long term. Each Equity sub-fund listed above will invest at least two-thirds of its net assets in equities or equity-related instruments of companies of any size, in any industry, in any country. Equity-related instruments may include depository receipts.

On an ancillary basis, and for defensive purposes, the Equity sub-funds may invest in investment grade fixed income instruments, (such as convertible bonds, corporate bonds and government bonds and their associated derivative instruments), money market instruments and may hold cash or treasury bills pending reinvestment.

Each Equity sub-fund may use options, futures and other derivative instruments.

Alternate Solutions Sub-funds

The Alternate Solutions sub-funds may invest extensively in derivatives providing both long and synthetic short positions (short positions through the use of derivatives). As a result, as well as holding assets that may rise or fall with market values, Alternate Solutions sub-funds may also hold positions that may rise as the market value falls and fall as the market value rises. However, if the value of the underlying security increases, it will have a negative effect on the sub-fund's value. In a rising market, leverage can enhance returns to investors but if the market falls, losses may be greater.

The Alternate Solutions sub-funds may employ leverage as part of their investment strategy when using derivatives. Derivatives may contain a leverage component and consequently any adverse changes in the value or level of the underlying asset, rate or index can result in a loss greater than the amount invested in the derivative itself.

Each Alternate Solutions sub-fund (except for the Global Multi-Strategy Fund) may use options, futures and swaps (excluding total return swaps) as well as other types of derivative instruments for hedging and investment purposes. The Global Multi-Strategy Fund may use options, futures and swaps (including total return swaps) as well as other types of derivative instruments for hedging and investment purposes.

The Investment Manager may use one or more separate counterparties to undertake derivative transactions. As with all counterparty agreements, there is a risk to each party of a contract that the counterparty will not meet its contractual obligations. The Investment Manager assesses the creditworthiness of counterparties as part of the risk management process.

The Alternate Solutions sub-fund may use forward foreign exchange transactions, to hedge, as far as is reasonably practicable, the currency exposure of the underlying assets as against the base currency of the relevant sub-fund. However, this will not eliminate a sub-fund's currency risk.

The Alternate Solutions sub-funds aim to achieve positive returns through investments in equity securities and their derivatives but a substantial proportion of the assets of the sub-fund may at any time consist of cash, near cash, deposits and/or money market instruments.

Cross sub-fund investments

As at 30 September 2023 there were no cross sub-fund investments.

2. Presentation of financial statements

The accompanying financial statements present the financial position including the assets and liabilities of the Company and each sub-fund in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements. They are prepared in the designated currency of each sub-fund as stated in the prospectus. The combined statements of the Company are prepared in Euros.

The financial statements are prepared on a going concern basis of accounting, with the exception of the Janus Henderson Global Equity Market Neutral Fund which closed on 25 September 2023.

3. Significant accounting policies

The following is a summary of the significant accounting policies followed by the Company:

Valuation of investment securities

The investments within the portfolio of each sub-fund, listed securities and securities dealt on any stock exchange will be valued based on the last traded price on the stock exchange at the Net Asset Value (NAV) calculation date. The stock exchange is normally the principal market for such assets. The value of assets dealt on any other regulated market is based on the last available price at 23:59 Luxembourg time, except the Emerging Markets Fund which is based on the price at 09:00 Luxembourg time on the last valuation day of the accounting year 29 September 2023 and in accordance with the rules set out in the prospectus. For the purposes of the financial statements, the investments have been valued on the relevant market or traded price as at 29 September 2023.

The exchange rates used to value the investments of each sub-fund are as the valuation point on or after the dealing cut off on the dealing day concerned.

All other assets, including restricted and not readily marketable securities, will be valued in such manner as the Directors consider appropriate to reflect their fair value. The Company reserves the right to utilise fair value techniques where the underlying markets are closed for trading at the sub-fund's valuation point and where the latest available market prices may not accurately represent the fair value of the sub-fund's holdings due to prevailing market conditions.

Units or shares of CIS are valued at their last determined and available NAV or, if such price is not representative of the fair market value of such assets, then the price as determined by the Directors on a fair and equitable basis. Units or shares of a listed closed-ended CIS are valued at their last available stock market value.

In the case of short term instruments, the value of the instrument based on the net acquisition cost, is gradually adjusted to the par value price thereof. In the event of material changes in market conditions, the valuation basis is adjusted to the new market yields.

As a result of time variations in certain markets the prices applied to some investments do not necessarily reflect the closing market prices for the same calendar day as the relevant dealing day.

Any difference arising between the cost of securities held at the reporting date and their market value at that date is recognised in the Statement of Operations and Statement of Net Assets.

Realised gains or losses resulting from investments are recognised in the Statement of Operations and Statement of Changes in Net Assets.

Private placement investments

A private placement is a private alternative to issuing a publicly offered security as a means for raising capital. In a private placement the sale of securities is made directly by the issuer to a select number of investors without public offering through an investment bank.

Typically, when the sub-fund invests through a private placement, the sub-fund makes a commitment to invest a specified amount of capital in the investee private company in a series of tranches. The capital commitment for the initial and any future closings are triggered following the completion of defined conditions or events.

The sub-fund recognises investment purchases in the financial statements for tranches that completed or became binding transactions prior to the end of the financial reporting year. These are then included in the year end investment portfolio as an investment holding.

Future tranches that have not completed before the year end and are dependent on future events are unfunded commitments and not recognised in the financial statements. There were no unfunded commitments at the year end.

Special purpose acquisition companies

The sub-funds may invest in stock, warrants, and other securities of SPACs or similar entities that pool funds to seek potential acquisition opportunities. Unless and until an acquisition is completed, a SPAC typically invests its assets (less a portion retained to cover expenses) in US Government securities, money market fund securities, and cash. If an acquisition that meets the requirements for the SPAC is not completed within a pre-established period of time (typically two years), the invested funds are returned to the SPAC's shareholders. Because SPACs and similar entities are in essence blank check companies without an operating history or ongoing business other than seeking acquisitions, the value of a SPAC's securities is particularly dependent on the ability of the SPAC's management to timely identify and complete a profitable acquisition. Some SPACs may pursue acquisitions only within certain industries or regions, which may increase the volatility of their prices. To the extent the SPAC is invested in cash or similar securities while awaiting an acquisition opportunity, a sub-fund's ability to meet its investment objective may be negatively impacted. In addition, some SPACs may be traded in the over-the-counter (OTC) market and may be considered illiquid and/or be subject to restrictions on resale.

Forward foreign exchange contracts

Forward foreign exchange contracts are valued at the forward rate applicable at the Statement of Net Assets date for the period until maturity. Gains or losses resulting from forward foreign exchange contracts are recognised in the Statement of Operations and Statement of Changes in Net Assets. Open forward foreign exchange contracts are shown in the portfolio statement at fair value.

Unrealised gains or losses resulting from forward foreign exchange contracts are recognised in the Statement of Operations and Statement of Net Assets.

Forward foreign currency contracts on hedged share classes

Open forward currency contracts on hedged share classes are shown in the portfolio statement at fair value. The net gains/(losses) on forward currency contracts on hedged share classes are apportioned between hedged income on forward currency contracts in the revenue account and forward currency contracts on hedged share classes in the Statement of Operations and Statement of Changes in Net Assets, reflecting the income and capital elements of the hedged share classes.

Unrealised gains or losses resulting from forward foreign exchange contracts on hedged share classes are recognised in the Statement of Net Assets.

Financial futures contracts

Financial future contracts are valued at the exchange quoted price at the valuation point at the Statement of Net Assets date of 29 September 2023. Initial margin deposits are made in cash upon entering into financial futures contracts. During the period when the financial future contract is open, changes in the value of the contract are recognised as unrealised gains and losses in the Statement of Net Assets by marking to market on a daily basis to reflect the market value of the contract at the end of each day's trading. Variation margin payments are made or received, depending upon whether unrealised losses or gains are incurred. Variation margin payments are recorded in the futures margin account in the Statement of Net Assets. When the contract is closed, the sub-fund records a realised gain or loss in the Statement of Operations and Statement of Changes in Net Assets equal to the difference between the proceeds from (or cost of) the closing transaction and the opening transaction.

Open financial future contracts are shown in the portfolio statement at fair value.

Contracts for difference

Changes in the value of contracts for difference are recognised as unrealised gains or losses in the Statement of Net Assets by 'marking-to-market' the value at the Balance sheet date, using prices supplied by independent pricing services that are based on the closing prices of the underlying securities on the recognised exchanges. When a contract is closed, the difference between the proceeds from (or cost of) the closing transaction and the original transaction is recorded as a realised gain or loss in the Statement of Operations and Statement of Change in Net Assets.

Open contracts for difference are shown in the portfolio statement at fair value.

Options

When a sub-fund purchases an option, it pays a premium and an amount equal to that premium is recorded as an investment. When a sub-fund sells an option, it receives a premium and an amount equal to that premium is recorded as a liability. The investment or liability is adjusted daily to reflect the current market value of the option. If an option expires unexercised, the sub-fund realises a gain or loss to the extent of the premium received or paid.

Swap contracts

Each Alternate Solutions sub-fund may invest in swaps, with the exception of total return swaps which are only invested in by the Global Multi-Strategy Fund. Gains or losses resulting from swap contracts are recognised in the Statement of Operations and Statement of Changes in Net Assets. The premiums received resulting from credit default swaps are recognised under Derivative income/expense in the Statement of Operations. Swaps are OTC investments valued at fair market value as determined in good faith pursuant to procedures established by the Management Company and ratified by the Directors.

Realised gains & losses on sale of investments

The computation of realised gains and losses on sales of investments is made on the basis of average cost.

Income

Distributions from CIS and dividends receivable from quoted equity and non equity shares are credited to revenue, when the security is quoted ex-dividend. Dividends on unquoted stocks are credited to revenue when the dividend is announced.

Bank interest and margin interest earned on derivative positions are recognised on an accruals basis. Positive margin interest is disclosed under the caption 'Derivative income' and any negative margin interest is disclosed under 'Derivative expense' in the Statement of Operations.

Bond interest and interest from certificates of deposit are accrued on a daily basis.

As at 30 September 2023

Long positions held on contracts for difference are subject to financing costs. Interest is calculated and charged on a daily basis on the contract value. Similarly if short positions are held, interest will be paid or received and recorded as 'Interest received/paid on contracts for difference' within the Statement of Operations, depending on its nature and may be further influenced by the monetary policy adopted in each jurisdiction.

Special dividends are recognised as either revenue or capital depending on the nature and circumstances of the special dividend declared.

Dividend, Real Estate Investment Trust (REIT) and interest income is disclosed net of withholding tax (WHT) where applicable.

Dividend charges or credits are used to ensure that the contracts for difference mirror the value of the underlying stock when a dividend is announced. If a long position is held, a payment will be received on the ex-dividend date and is reflected within 'Derivative income' in the Statement of Operations. If a short position is held, a charge is deducted on ex-dividend date and is reflected within 'Derivative expenses' in the Statement of Operations.

Where the sub-fund invests into a CIS, management fee rebates may be received from Investment Managers and are recognised when the entitlement arises, as either income or capital in accordance with the treatment of the management fee charged on the underlying CIS. Capital management fee rebates are reflected in the Statement of Operations under 'Net realised gain on investment securities' and income management fee rebates under 'Other income'. Any capital or income management fee rebates receivable are reflected in the Statement of net assets under 'Other assets'.

Revenue derived from the realised and unrealised gains/losses on hedged class forward currency contracts is allocated to both the capital and revenue of the share class based upon the prior day capital/revenue split.

Securities lending

The Company has entered into a securities lending programme with J.P. Morgan SE acting as the Securities Lending Agent for the purposes of efficient portfolio management and in order to generate additional revenue. As part of this agreement the sub-funds can reinvest collateral and enter into reverse repurchase agreements.

The Securities Lending Agent shall ensure that sufficient value and quality of collateral is received before or simultaneously with the movement of loaned collateral. This will then be held throughout the duration of the loan transaction and only returned once the lent asset has been received or returned back to the relevant sub-fund. The Securities Lending Agent will also monitor and maintain all operational aspects of the assets while they are on loan.

Securities lending revenue is accounted for in the Statement of Operations within 'Other income'.

Designated currencies

As permitted by Luxembourg Law, the accounts and records of the Company are maintained in Euros, with the exception of the Emerging Markets Fund, the Global Equity Fund and the Global Equity Market Neutral Fund (prior to closure) which are maintained in US Dollars, and the Absolute Return Fund which is maintained in Sterling.

Transactions carried out in any other currency other than Euros, which is the designated currency of the Company, are translated at the exchange rates ruling at the transaction date. Assets and liabilities are translated at the exchange rates ruling at the Statement of Net Assets date.

When the designated currency of a sub-fund is not Euros, the difference between the opening net assets converted at exchange rates ruling at the beginning of the year, and closing net assets converted at exchange rates ruling at the end of the financial accounting year are disclosed in the Combined Statement of Change in Net Assets as 'Exchange rate effect on opening net assets'.

Hedged share classes

Any gains or losses that are incurred as a result of the hedging transactions will accrue to the relevant share class only with apportionment reflecting the income and capital elements of the hedge share classes.

The value of the share class to be hedged will be made up of both capital and income elements and the Investment Manager intends to hedge between 95-105% of the value of each hedged share class. Adjustments to any hedge to keep within this target range will only be made when the required adjustment is material. As such the hedged class shares will not be completely protected from all currency fluctuations.

As at 30 September 2023

4. Swing pricing adjustment

The Company operates a swing pricing policy, the threshold of which is determined by the Directors. The maximum swing factor applied during the year was a swing of 35 basis points applied to Pan European Small and Mid-Cap Fund on 17 January 2023.

The Directors have implemented a swing pricing policy to protect existing shareholders from the dilution effects they may suffer as a result of dealing activity by other Investors in a particular sub-fund. The swing pricing policy gives the Directors the power to apply a swing price adjustment to the NAV per share to cover dealing costs and to preserve the value of the underlying assets of a particular sub-fund.

The sub-funds in scope operate a partial swing pricing mechanism, where the NAV per share will only swing when a predetermined threshold (the swing threshold) is exceeded at each dealing day. The swing threshold level is approved by the Directors at their discretion to ensure that those flows that would represent a significant amount of dilution in a particular sub-fund are captured. The Directors may decide to adjust the swing pricing mechanism in exceptional circumstances to protect the interests of remaining shareholders.

If the net dealing on any dealing day is greater than the swing threshold, the NAV per share will be adjusted up or down dependent on aggregate net transactions on any given dealing day. It will increase the NAV per share when there are net inflows into the sub-fund and decrease the NAV per share when there are net outflows from the sub-fund. The same swing price adjustment will be applied to all share classes within the relevant sub-fund, therefore all transacting investors in the relevant sub-fund, whether subscribing or redeeming, will be affected by the swing price adjustment. It is not possible to accurately predict whether a swing price adjustment will occur at any future point in time and consequently how frequently it will need to be made.

The Directors may also make a discretionary dilution adjustment if the threshold is not met if, in their opinion, it is in the interest of existing shareholders to do so.

During the year under review, swing pricing mechanism has been applied for all sub-funds.

On 29 September 2023, the last working day of the year under review, none of the sub-funds adjusted their NAV per share.

5. Exchange rates

The exchange rates used for the conversion into Euros of assets and liabilities of each sub-fund denominated in other currencies and with respect to sub-funds whose investments are valued at 09:00 Luxembourg time as detailed in Note 3 to the financial statements as at 29 September 2023 are as follows:

* The performance fees are disclosed in accordance with guidelines issued by the European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA).

The performance fee for the relevant share classes of each sub-fund, as set out in the prospectus, will be 20% of the outperformance of the share class relative to the hurdle rate, subject to the high water mark.

The hurdle rate is a rate of return that the share class must achieve before it can charge a performance fee. It may be a set percentage or it may be referenced to a financial rate or index.

The high water mark means the initial launch price of the share class for the first crystallisation period or, in subsequent crystallisation periods, the NAV at the end of the last crystallisation period where crystallisation occurs and a performance fee is paid.

The high water mark is adjusted for any distribution paid. If the sub-funds underperform in relation to either the hurdle rate or the high water mark, no performance fee is paid.

For all base currency and unhedged share classes, the performance fee will be calculated with reference to the returns of the NAV and the hurdle NAV in the base currency of the relevant sub-fund.

Unhedged share classes may be subject to exchange rate movements which may lead to differences in performance between the relevant unhedged share class and the relevant base currency share class. In certain circumstances, the relevant unhedged share class may incur a performance fee even if the relevant unhedged share class did not receive a positive return.

For hedged share classes, the performance fee will be calculated with reference to the return of the NAV in the relevant share class currency and the return of the hurdle NAV in the base currency of the relevant sub-fund.

BNP Paribas, Luxembourg Branch has been appointed by the Management Company as Administrator under a fund administration agreement (the 'Fund Administration Service Agreement').

6. Fees and operational expenses (continued)

Depositary and Custody fees

BNP Paribas, Luxembourg Branch has been appointed as Depositary for the Company in order to comply with the UCITS V Directive.

The Depositary is entitled to receive out of the assets of each sub-fund, fees in consideration for providing services to it, along with such out-of-pocket expenses and disbursements as are deemed reasonable and customary by the Directors.

BNP Paribas, Luxembourg Branch has been appointed by the Company under an agreement (the 'Custodian Agreement') to assure the safe custody of the Company's assets.

The Depositary is also entitled to receive out of the assets of each sub-fund, custody fees comprising asset-based fees and transaction-based fees that vary depending on the market in which a particular sub-fund invests; these fees will not exceed GBP 120 (EUR 180) per transaction.

Both the Depositary fee and Custodian fee are accrued daily and paid monthly in arrears.

Directors' fees

Those Directors who are not employees of Janus Henderson Group plc and its affiliates may each receive a remuneration, including an annual fee out of the assets of the Company, which shall be approved by the shareholders. The Directors fees due and paid to the Directors during the year were EUR 105,500 (September 2022: EUR 72,000).

Other expenses

The Company will also pay, as far as is allowable under applicable regulations, all other operating expenses which include, without limitation, taxes, expenses for legal and auditing services, printing shareholders' reports, prospectuses, all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the Directors, registration fees and other expenses payable to supervisory and local authorities, regulatory and tax representatives appointed in various jurisdictions, insurance, interest costs, brokerage fees and costs. The Company will also pay fees or other charges levied in respect of the provision and use of benchmarks, dividend and redemption payment costs and the costs of publication of the NAV or other sub-fund information, including, but not limited to, that required to be published by any regulatory authority.

Collective Investment Schemes

Where a sub-fund may invest all or substantially all of its assets in CIS, there may be additional costs of investing in the underlying funds (underlying funds' TERs) which could increase the TER and/or the Ongoing Charges of the sub-fund. Accordingly, the sub-funds TER and/or Ongoing Charge will include a synthetic element reflecting these underlying funds' TERs and all share classes of the sub-fund will incur such additional costs.

When investing into other CIS managed by a Janus Henderson Group plc company, there will be no double charging of management fees.

Annual expenses

The Management Company has undertaken to limit the annual expenses (other than the AMC, performance fee, dilution levy if applicable, the service fee in respect of share class X, the expenses related to the purchase and sale of investments and the cost of hedging) borne by each share class of the Company to a maximum of 0.50% of the average NAV per share of such share class. Any other expenses of the Company in excess of the maximum will be borne by the Investment Manager, and may be settled during the accounting year and/or will be settled following the accounting year end of the Company.

There were no expenses that exceeded the maximum of 0.50% for the year ended 30 September 2023.

Share class service fee

In relation to share class X, the Sub-Distributors appointed by the Principal Distributor shall be entitled to receive a service fee paid by the Company as compensation for services provided and expenses incurred by the Sub-Distributors in promoting the sale of share class X for the Company, including assistance to the investors in handling orders for subscriptions, redemptions and switches of shares, providing and interpreting current information about the Company, and other information or assistance as may be requested. The service fee which the Sub-Distributors are entitled to receive will be 0.50% per annum of the NAV per share of share class X.

In respect of share classes A, E, F, G, H, I, P and Z no service fee will be applicable.

No redemption charge will be applicable to subscribers in share classes A, E, F, G, H, I, P, X and Z.

Initial sales charge

The Principal Distributor is entitled to receive in respect of share classes A, F, H and X of the Equity Funds and share classes A, E, F, G, H, I, P and X of the Alternate Solutions Funds, the initial sales charge paid by the investor, as specified for the share class. The initial sales charge shall be expressed as a percentage of the NAV per share and shall in no case exceed the maximum permitted by the laws and regulations of any country where the shares are authorised for public sale. The Principal Distributor may in conjunction with each Sub-Distributor agree the proportion of the initial sales charge to be retained by the Sub-Distributor. Further details can be found in the section 'Charges and Expenses' of the prospectus.

6. Fees and operational expenses (continued)

Formation costs

There were no formation expenses charged during the year.

7. Taxation

Under Luxembourg tax law, there are no Luxembourg income, withholding or capital gains taxes payable by the Company. The Company is, however, subject to the tax on Luxembourg undertakings for collective investment (Taxe d'abonnement).

Share classes A, F, H and X of the Company which are offered in the sub-funds will be subject to the Taxe d'abonnement at the rate of 0.05% per annum of the value of the total net assets of such share class on the last day of each calendar quarter, whereas share classes E, G, I, P and Z of the Company in the sub-funds (reserved to Institutional Investors within the meaning of the 2010 Law) will be subject to the Taxe d'abonnement at the rate of 0.01% per annum of the value of the total net assets of such share class on the last day of each calendar quarter.

No stamp duty or other tax is payable in Luxembourg on the issue of shares.

Capital gains, dividends and interest on securities issued in other countries may be subject to withholding and capital gains taxes imposed by such countries.

India operates a taxation regime for the short-term and long-term capital gains. As a result of this, the Emerging Markets Fund recorded an accrual for Indian capital gains tax payable on Indian securities.

8. Share class details

Shares of each class in the Company have no par value, are freely transferable and, within each share class, are entitled to participate equally in the profits arising in respect of, and in the proceeds of a liquidation of the sub-fund to which they are attributable. All shares are issued in registered form.

The number and type of classes of shares available in each sub-fund are detailed in the prospectus. The differences between share classes relate to the minimum investment, currency of denomination, distribution policy, the type of investor who is eligible to invest, the hedging strategy and the charging structure applicable to each of them.

Hedged share classes

The sub-funds may offer hedged share classes in order to mitigate the currency risk between the base currency of the sub-fund and the currency of the hedged share class. The other characteristics of the hedged share class (e.g. minimum investment, management fee etc) remain the same as the base currency share class except their cost may be higher due to the cost of the currency hedging.

Where a hedged share class is available it will be expressed with the pre-fix 'H' immediately before the currency denomination and described for instance as class A2 HEUR, class A2 HGBP, class A2 HUSD, class A2 HAUD, class A2 HSEK, class A2 HCHF etc. The Company's Investment Manager will employ financial instruments, such as foreign exchange forward contracts, as a hedge.

An up-to-date list of the share classes available for the sub-funds is available at the registered office of the Company.

9. Net asset value

The NAV per share of each sub-fund will be expressed in the base currency of the sub-fund, calculated by the administrator on each business day in Luxembourg at each valuation point and on other days as approved by the Board.

The NAV for each share of each sub-fund is calculated by determining the value of the assets of the relevant sub-fund applicable to that share class, including accrued income, and deducting all liabilities (including all fees and charges) of that share class, and dividing the resultant sum by the total number of shares of that share class in the relevant sub-fund in issue or allotted at that time, (the resulting amount being rounded to the nearest two decimal places) to give the NAV per share class of the sub-fund. The NAV per share of each share class within each sub-fund may, at the discretion of the Directors, be rounded up or down to the nearest ten-thousandth of a EUR, USD, GBP, SGD or CHF in the case of each share class denominated in EUR, USD, GBP, SGD or CHF respectively and may be rounded up or down to the nearest hundredth of a JPY in the case of each share class denominated in JPY. Any other currency share class that becomes available will be rounded up or down using similar principles as the above mentioned currencies (at the discretion of the Directors).

Further details on rules that apply in valuing the total assets can be found in the current prospectus.

If the Company had calculated the NAV's solely with a view to publication, the market prices used to value investments would have been the closing prices on 30 September 2023. However, using these prices would not have caused the NAVs to significantly differ from those shown in the financial statements. There were no sub-funds with a difference in NAV of greater than 0.50%.

As at 30 September 2023

10. Equalisation

The Company will maintain equalisation accounts in relation to the shares with a view to ensuring that the levels of distribution payable to investors in the shares are not affected by the issue and redemption of, or the switch from or into, shares of those sub-funds during an accounting period. The price at which shares are bought by an investor will therefore be deemed to include an equalisation payment (which will be credited to the relevant equalisation account) calculated by reference to the accrued income of the share class, net of charges and expenses where applicable. The first distribution which an investor receives in respect of such shares following the purchase may include a repayment of capital.

11. Dividend distributions

The net income of the assets of the sub-fund attributable to the (sub-class 2) share class will not be distributed to shareholders but will be reflected in the NAV per share of the (sub-class 2) share class concerned. Sub-class 1 shares will distribute substantially all of the investment income for the relevant accounting period to shareholders. Dividends will be declared in relation to the distribution policy of the share class. Dividends will normally be paid out in share class currency.

During the year from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023 dividends were declared and were paid on the following sub-funds:

19. Contingent assets, liabilities and commitments

There were no contingent assets, liabilities or outstanding commitments at the current year end.

20. Unfunded private placement commitments

The Company invests in a number of private placement investments where there can be unfunded future commitments at the year end date. These future commitments arise through the tranche structure of the investment process for such securities and are dependent on future events that have not occurred at the year end date. These typically relate to future financial or commercial targets set in the investment agreement with the investee entity and it is not practicable to assign any probability of achieving these in the financial statement disclosures. When the triggers are met, there is a binding commitment to fund the additional purchase, at which point an investment purchase transaction is recognised. Due to the nature of private placements, the free negotiability of these assets is restricted.

There were no unfunded private placement commitments at the current year end.

21. Financial derivatives

The Company has used financial derivatives for hedging and meeting the investment objectives including risk reduction and implementation of investment policies. Details of individual contracts at market value are shown in the portfolio statements for the sub-funds and the individual derivative underlying exposure position by counterparty at the year-end is summarised below. The underlying exposure, as defined by CESR guidelines on Risk Measurement and the Calculation of Global Exposure and Counterparty Risk for UCITS ('CESR Guidance Document CESR/10-788'), may differ from the market value of the derivative position as presented in the individual sub-fund portfolio statement.

- the combined statement of net assets for the Fund and the statement of net assets for each of the sub-funds as at 30 September 2023;
- the combined statement of operations for the Fund and the statement of operations for each of the sub-funds for the year then ended;
- the combined statement of changes in net assets for the Fund and the statement of changes in net assets for each of the sub-funds for the year then ended;
- the portfolio of investments as at 30 September 2023; and
- the notes to the financial statements, which include a summary of significant accounting policies.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 on the audit profession (Law of 23 July 2016) and with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs) as adopted for Luxembourg by the "Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier" (CSSF). Our responsibilities under the Law of 23 July 2016 and ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF are further described in the "Responsibilities of the "Réviseur d'entreprises agréé" for the audit of the financial statements" section of our report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

We are independent of the Fund in accordance with the International Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants, including International Independence Standards, issued by the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants (IESBA Code) as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements. We have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities under those ethical requirements.

Other information

The Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information stated in the annual report but does not include the financial statements and our audit report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Board of Directors for the financial statements

The Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements, and for such internal control as the Board of Directors determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Board of Directors is responsible for assessing the Fund's and each of its sub-funds' ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Fund or close any of its sub-funds or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Responsibilities of the "Réviseur d'entreprises agréé" for the audit of the financial statements

The objectives of our audit are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an audit report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control;
- obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control;

- evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors;
- conclude on the appropriateness of the Board of Directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Fund's or any of its sub-funds' ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our audit report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our audit report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Fund or any of its sub-funds to cease to continue as a going concern;
- evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Aggregate transaction data

Eligible collateral types for stock lending and borrowing transactions are approved by the Investment Manager and may consist of (i) cash, (ii) securities issued or guaranteed by a Member State of the OECD or by their local authorities or supranational institutions and organisations with regional, EU and world-wide scope or by Hong Kong or Singapore, generally subject to a minimum long term credit rating of at least A- by one or more major rating agency or (iii) equities. Collateral should be highly liquid and traded on a regulated market. Collateral is subject to a haircut on a sliding scale based on the combination of the underlying instrument being lent versus the asset being received as collateral. The value of collateral required will range from 102% to 110% of the value of the stock on loan.

Risk policies

The Management Company employs a risk management process that identifies the risks to which the individual sub-funds and the Company taken as a whole are or might be exposed and how such risks are assessed, monitored and managed, ensuring compliance with relevant regulation. This enables it to monitor and measure at any time the risk of the portfolio positions and their contribution to the overall risk profile of the relevant sub-fund, thereby ensuring that the global exposure of the underlying assets, including derivative instruments, shall not exceed the total net value of the relevant sub-fund. In accordance with the Law of 17 December 2010 and the applicable regulatory requirements of the CSSF, the Management Company reports to the CSSF on a regular basis on the risk management process on behalf of the Company.

Method

The global exposure of a sub-fund is calculated by using either the commitment approach or Value-at-Risk (VaR) approach by reference to its risk profile. The commitment approach means that financial derivative instruments are converted into the market value of the equivalent position in the underlying asset(s). VaR is a mathematical-statistical concept and is commonly used as a standard measure of risk in the financial sector. The VaR approach is used, in general, for sub-funds using derivative instruments or techniques within their investment strategies to generate additional leverage or market risk exposure.

Sub-funds using the VaR approach

For such sub-funds, the maximum potential loss that a sub-fund could suffer in normal market conditions within a given time horizon and a certain degree of confidence is estimated. In these calculations all positions in the relevant portfolio are taken into consideration including those undertaken for efficient portfolio management purposes. For the purpose of calculating global exposure by VaR either a relative VaR approach or absolute VaR approach can be used; the selection of relative or absolute VaR methodology is determined by the availability of a reference portfolio appropriate for a sub-fund in meeting its investment objective.

VaR model

VaR has been calculated using a Monte Carlo simulation approach. As a control mechanism, Monte Carlo results are compared to the parametric model for validation purposes within the daily monitoring process.

Parameters

The following parameters are applied as a minimum: a one-tailed 99% confidence level, a holding period equivalent to one month (20 business days), effective observation period (history) of risk factors of at least 1 year (250 business days), quarterly data set updates and daily calculation.

Limits

For sub-funds which have a suitable reference portfolio, the regulatory limit is that the VaR of the total portfolio's positions shall not be greater than twice the VaR of the portfolio's reference portfolio.

For those sub-funds which are unable or for which it is not appropriate to determine a reference portfolio (e.g. absolute return type funds) an absolute VaR is calculated on all of the portfolio's positions. Absolute monthly VaR on such sub-funds is not to exceed a regulatory maximum threshold of 20%.

VaR Results - for the year ended 30 September 2023

The VaR method, limits and utilisation of those limits for the year from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023 are summarised in the table below:

Sub-fund	Global Exposure Calculation basis	Actual VaR in year			VaR Limit	Utilisation of VaR Limit
		Minimum	Maximum	Average		Minimum	Maximum	Average
Absolute Return Fund	Absolute VaR	1.1%	2.6%	1.6%	20%	5.7%	13.0%	7.9%
Global Equity Market Neutral Fund*	Absolute VaR	0.9%	4.1%	2.5%	20%	4.5%	20.3%	12.3%
Global Multi-Strategy Fund	Absolute VaR	1.4%	5.4%	2.7%	20%	7.0%	27.1%	13.6%

* Global Market Equity Neutral Fund closed on 25 September 2023.

Leverage

For those sub-funds measuring and monitoring global exposure using the VaR approach, the level of leverage arising from the use of derivative instruments is disclosed in the table below as a percentage of each sub-fund's total NAV. The calculation is based on the sum of notional exposures of financial derivative instruments in the investment portfolio including those held for risk reduction purposes.

Please note this level of leverage is explicitly not an investment limit for the relevant sub-fund and will vary over time under differing market conditions to ensure that the relevant sub-fund meets its investment objective.

As at 30 September 2023

Leverage (continued)

Leverage - for the year ended 30 September 2023

Sub-fund	Minimum	Leverage Maximum	Average

Global Equity Market Neutral Fund*	45%	186%	124%
Global Multi-Strategy Fund	340%	1050%	703%

* Global Equity Market Neutral Fund closed on 25 September 2023.

Sub-funds using commitment approach

The global exposure for those sub-funds not specified in the table above has been determined according to the commitment approach during the reporting year from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. For such sub-funds, each sub-fund's total commitment to derivatives is limited to 100% of the relevant sub-fund's total NAV, based on the sum of notional exposures of financial derivative instruments in the investment portfolio including those held for risk reduction purposes.

Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation and EU Taxonomy Regulation

The EU Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation ('SFDR') (Regulation (EU) 2019/2088) has applied since 10 March 2021. Pursuant to Article 11 of SFDR (Transparency of the promotion of environmental or social characteristics and of sustainable investments in periodic reports), the Manager is required to provide:

With respect to each Article 8 sub-fund: prescribed information on the extent to which environmental or social characteristics are met.

Please see this information disclosed in the below Annexes for each sub-fund.

In addition, the EU Taxonomy Regulation ('Taxonomy Regulation') (Regulation (EU) 2020/852) establishes a framework for identifying economic activities as environmentally sustainable within the EEA and requires the sub-funds to additionally disclose whether the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities has been taken into account. This information is set out as follows:

With respect to each Article 8 sub-fund: the sub-fund(s) promote environmental or social characteristics and as such, are required as per Article 6 of the Taxonomy Regulation to state that the 'do no significant harm' principle applies only to those investments held in the strategy that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. It should be noted that the sub-funds do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the Taxonomy Regulation and the sub-funds portfolio alignment with the Taxonomy Regulation is not calculated. Therefore, the 'do not significant harm' principle does not apply to any of the investments of each sub-funds' strategy.

With respect to each Article 6 sub-fund listed below, the investments underlying this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

From 31 October 2022 until the end of the reference period (herein referred to as the 'reference period'), the fund promoted climate change mitigation and avoiding issuers with a high carbon intensity, and which do not have a credible transition strategy. The fund also avoided investments in certain activities with the potential to cause harm to human health and wellbeing by applying binding exclusions. The fund does not use a reference benchmark to attain its environmental or social characteristics.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The sustainability indicators performed in line with expectations with the portfolio applying ESG exclusionary screens designed to avoid investment in certain high carbon activities based on revenue exposures. The portfolio also applied carbon transition strategy assessments for those high carbon activities in which it did invest.

Specifically, issuers were excluded if they derived more than 10% of their revenue from oil sands extraction, arctic oil and gas, thermal coal extraction and power generation, palm oil, or tobacco.

The fund invested in five high carbon intensity stocks having deemed their decarbonisation strategies to be credible. These companies meet a social need but operate in the materials sector where emissions are hard to abate.

The fund also adhered to the Firmwide Exclusions Policy as it did not make any direct investments in the companies involved in the current manufacture of, or minority shareholding of 20% or more in a manufacturer of controversial weapons.

Carbon Footprint (t/million USD) – Scope 1&2:

Total Carbon emissions for a portfolio normalized by the market value of the portfolio, expressed in tons CO_{2e} / $M invested.

► Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

The fund generally maintained a lower carbon intensity and footprint than the MSCI All Country World Index throughout the reference period, however does not use a reference benchmark to attain its environmental or social characteristics. The fund temporarily exceeded the carbon intensity of the benchmark for a period of 5 weeks due to an investment in Vista resulting in a large overweight position vs the benchmark. These restrictions include not investing in companies involved in the current manufacture of, or minority shareholding of 20% or more in a manufacturer of controversial weapons, or in companies with more than 5% revenue derived from fossil fuel extraction, weapons manufacturing, tobacco production, or gambling.

During the period the energy and utilities sector weightings increased, which resulted in an increase in the overall carbon footprint of the portfolio, however the portfolios carbon footprint is well below the benchmark.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The sustainability indicators performed in line with expectations with the portfolio applying ESG exclusionary screens designed to avoid investment in certain high carbon activities based on revenue exposures. The portfolio also applied carbon transition strategy assessments for those high carbon activities in which it did invest.

Specifically, issuers were excluded if they derived more than 10% of their revenue from oil sands extraction, arctic oil and gas, thermal coal extraction and power generation, palm oil, or tobacco.

The fund invested in five high carbon intensity stocks having deemed their decarbonisation strategies to be credible. These companies meet a social need but operate in the materials, Utilities and Airline sectors where emissions are hard to abate. At period end we held four such names equal to 8.9% of the fund.

The fund also adhered to the Firmwide Exclusions Policy as it did not make any direct investments in the companies involved in the current manufacture of, or minority shareholding of 20% or more in a manufacturer of controversial weapons.

This data is based on available 3rd party data and may not cover the full fund or benchmark.

The fund currently exhibits higher than benchmark emissions due to our overweight exposure to the Materials and Energy sectors.

Carbon Footprint (t/million USD) – Scope 1&2:

Total Carbon emissions for a portfolio normalized by the market value of the portfolio, expressed in tons CO_{2e} / $M invested.

For Janus Henderson Pan European Fund:

- The Carbon Footprint value of the portfolio was 147 (t/million USD) vs benchmark 68 (t/million USD)
- The WACI value of the portfolio was 237 (t/million USD) vs benchmark 93 (t/million USD)

The fund aims to have a lower carbon intensity and/or footprint than the MSCI Europe Index, however does not use a reference benchmark to attain its environmental or social characteristics.

Periodic disclosure for the financial products referred to in Article 8, paragraphs 1, 2 and 2a, of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 and Article 6, first paragraph, of Regulation (EU) 2020/852

Product name: Janus Henderson Pan European Small and Mid Cap Fund

Legal entity identifier: 213800R7Z49EGZAA3508

► Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

► The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852, establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

► Sustainability indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

From 31 October 2022 until the end of the reference period (herein referred to as the 'reference period'), the fund promoted climate change mitigation and avoiding issuers with a high carbon intensity, and which do not have a credible transition strategy, and supported for the United Nations Global Compact Principles (which cover matters including human rights, labour, corruption and environmental pollution). The fund also avoided investments in certain activities with the potential to cause harm to human health and wellbeing by applying binding exclusions. The fund does not use a reference benchmark to attain its environmental or social characteristics.

How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The sustainability indicators performed in line with expectations with the portfolio applying ESG exclusionary screens designed to avoid investment in certain high carbon activities based on revenue exposures. The portfolio also applied carbon transition strategy assessments for those high carbon activities in which it did invest as well as adhered to the overall UN Global Compact Principles.

Specifically, issuers were excluded if they derived more than 10% of their revenue from oil sands extraction, arctic oil and gas, thermal coal extraction and palm oil, or tobacco.

The fund invested in three high carbon intensity stocks having deemed their decarbonisation strategies to be credible. These companies meet a social need but operate in industries where emissions are hard to abate.

The fund also adhered to the Firmwide Exclusions Policy as it did not make any direct investments in the companies involved in the current manufacture of, or minority shareholding of 20% or more in a manufacturer of controversial weapons.

Issuers were also excluded if they are deemed to have failed to comply with the United Nations Global Compact (UNGC) Principles (which cover matters including human rights, labour, corruption, and environmental pollution).

This data is based on available 3rd party data and may not cover the full fund or benchmark.

Carbon Footprint (t/million USD) – Scope 1&2:

Total Carbon emissions for a portfolio normalized by the market value of the portfolio, expressed in tons CO₂e / $M invested.

Weighted Average Carbon Intensity (WACI) (t/million USD) - Scope 1&2:

Portfolios Exposure to carbon-intensive companies, expressed in tons CO₂e / $M invested.

Benchmark Name:

MSCI Europe

For Janus Henderson Pan European Small & Mid Cap Fund:

- The Carbon Footprint value of the portfolio was 83 (t/million USD) vs benchmark 88 (t/million USD)
- The WACI value of the portfolio was 102 (t/million USD) vs benchmark 112 (t/million USD)

The fund aims to have a lower carbon intensity and/or footprint than the MSCI Europe Index, however does not use a reference benchmark to attain its environmental or social characteristics.
