Reasons to Own

- Fully Allocated – The Trust only holds fully allocated and unencumbered precious metals – no exceptions.
- Redeemable for Metals – Unitholders have the ability to redeem their units for physical platinum and palladium on a monthly basis, subject to certain minimum requirements.¹
- Trustworthy Storage – The Trust’s metals will be held in custody by the Royal Canadian Mint, a Federal Crown Corporation of the Government of Canada.
- Potential Tax Advantage – The Trust may offer a potential tax advantage for certain non-corporate U.S. investors. Gains realized on the sale of the Trust’s units can be taxed at a capital gains rate of 15%/20%² versus the 28% collectibles rate applied to most precious metals ETFs, coins and bars.
- Easy to Buy, Sell and Own – Trust units can be purchased on any open trading day for the New York Stock Exchange or Toronto Stock Exchange. No need for investors to handle, secure or protect physical metal.
- A Liquid Investment – With an average daily trading volume of over $1.6 million in March 2024, trust units are liquid and can be bought and sold on any open trading day at the New York Stock Exchange or Toronto Stock Exchange.

Sprott Physical Platinum and Palladium Trust

The Automotive Industry is the Largest Pt-Pd Consumer: Catalytic Converters[†]

The primary driver of demand for both metals is the automotive industry. Platinum (Pt) and Palladium (Pd) are key elements in the manufacturing of catalytic converters which help reduce toxic emissions from automotive exhaust. Rising car production (especially in emerging economies) and tightening emissions standards worldwide has fueled steady growth in the use of catalytic converters.

Precious metals investments are more volatile on a daily basis and have higher headline risk than other sectors as they tend to be more sensitive to economic data, political and regulatory events as well as underlying commodity prices. Precious metals investments have price fluctuations based on short-term dynamics partly driven by demand/supply and also by investment flows. Precious metals investments tend to react more sensitively to global events and economic data than other sectors.
