PORTFOLIO COMMENTARY

It was no surprise that, as predicted by opinion polls, the Labour Party were elected to government by a huge majority. King Charles in his King's Speech laid out the legislative programme to be put before the House of Commons by the new Government. The mission was to secure economic growth without increasing income tax, corporation tax, national insurance and VAT. It was to encourage house building by introducing planning reforms and to improve the National Health Service (NHS) by making moves such as to reduce waiting lists. In her initial statement Rachel Reeve, the new Chancellor of the Exchequer, set a responsible tone and the UK stock market and Sterling performed well. She subsequently claimed that there was a $c\pounds22$ bn hole in the public finances and a promised 5% wage increase for public workers means that to balance the books, Capital Gains Tax and pensions might well be reassessed and targeted. Rather than making a snap decision details will be announced in her Autumn Statement at the end of October. For the time being inflation has settled at 2% leading to a probable reduction in bank rate which has been at 5.5% for the last two years. A major factor following the result of the General Election has been the removal of political uncertainty and the new Prime Minister seems to be adopting a moderate and responsible leadership. Against this background, investor sentiment has improved and we have also found that company management is generally more confident. It is encouraging that the bulk of the companies in which we have a holding are in line to meet market profit expectations.

Due to the substantial out-performance, our holding in MS International was approaching 10% of the portfolio valuation. We had been gradually reducing its size but during the month we took the opportunity to make a sizeable reduction at a favourable share price, so that the holding is at a more comfortable level. This released funds to enable us to add to a large number of holdings in the portfolio. Included in those were Serica and Kistos the oil and gas producers where, fears of the penal tax regime left shares prices at highly attractive levels. A significant addition was made to the holding in Eagle Eye the IT software promotion company which produced impressive results in the month. We also started a new holding in Gamma Communications the managed voice and data services company which is growing and coupled with a high level of recurring revenue also has a strong balance sheet. Until the Autumn Statement is announced there remains uncertainty about the measures that the Chancellor will take to raise funds to cover government expenditure. However, one of the main priorities lies in reducing waiting lists in the NHS. With a limited capital budget, the aim would be to improve efficiency which can be achieved through outsourcing and some of our holdings would benefit further from this initiative. There is further potential with other stocks in the portfolio and we feel positive about the outlook but are aware that the conflicts in the Middle East and Ukraine remain areas of uncertainty and Ukraine and other unforeseen circumstances can unsettle stock markets.

INVESTOR PROFILE

The fund is appropriate for all investor types, including those with only a basic knowledge of funds. It is compatible with investors who do not need a capital guarantee (investors must be prepared to accept fluctuations in the value of capital, including the ability to bear 100% capital loss) and are seeking capital growth. Due to the volatility of markets, investors should be willing to accept price fluctuations in exchange for the opportunity of potentially higher returns. This is a long term investment and investors should have an investment time horizon of at least 5 years. The recommended holding period does not provide any guarantee that the objective will be achieved. This product is eligible for all distribution channels (e.g. investment advice, portfolio management, non-advised sales and pure execution services).

The fund is unlikely to be appropriate for those who:

- Are looking for full capital protection or full repayment of the amount invested, and those who want a guaranteed return
- Have no risk tolerance
- Who are unwilling to accept price fluctuations (volatility) in the value of the fund
- $\bullet\,$ Do not intend to invest for the long term
