- Operating profit for January-June 2023 was SEK 2 875 million (January-June 2022: SEK 3 984 million). Excluding items affecting comparability last year, operating profit decreased by SEK 844 million due to lower wood product prices.
- Compared with the first quarter, the second quarter operating profit decreased by SEK 599 million to SEK 1 138 million as a result of a major maintenance shutdown in Workington and that previous quarter benefitted from electricity price hedges.

CEO comments

Demand for forest industry products weakened as the central banks' interest rate hikes slowed the rate of new construction and dampened the consumption of goods. Our profit decreased in the second quarter, but remained at a historically good level, at SEK 1 138 million, nearly half of which came from forests and renewable energy. Thanks to our strong cash flow, we were able to pay out an extra dividend and buy back 1.5 per cent of outstanding shares while maintaining a low indebtedness.

Despite the economic slowdown there are not enough supply of forest raw materials. Competition on the wood market remained strong in the Nordics during the quarter and prices increased further. Wood prices are now 30 per cent above their historical level, which increased profit from forests to SEK 390 million. Our position on the wood market, with good control over raw materials and the entire value chain, ensures the long-term security of our raw material supplies and gives us good opportunities to continue developing our industries.

Demand for paperboard for consumer packaging was lower than normal as customers continued to destock and the economy weakened. Prices were stable after the increases introduced last year. The profit for the quarter was burdened by SEK 140 million following a major maintenance shutdown in Workington. Together with lower revenue from sales of excess electricity and weaker market conditions, this means that profit decreased to SEK -49 million. The investment programme to increase capacity at Iggesund Mill has begun and will enable a gradual increase in sales to the customer segments with the highest quality requirements.

The market balance for paper was weak, which drove down prices, although they remained at historically high levels. We are continuing to advance our market positions, but we have also been forced to make significant production curtailments. Despite lower selling prices, second quarter earnings were very high, at SEK 659 million. We are continually developing our book and magazine paper while also investing to enable an increased production of our new packaging products in a little over a year from now.

There is strong interest in large-scale building in wood, but demand from other segments of the construction market is currently low due to high interest rates and inflation. After a considerable price drop in the second half of 2022 the price stabilised at a historically good level because of a shortage of raw materials in several high production countries. However, the high cost of logs limited the profit from wood products to SEK 55 million. With a strong position in the wood market, we continue to see good opportunities to develop the wood products business in pace with an increasing demand for sustainable building materials.

The energy situation in Europe has improved, but there is a continued shortage of energy over both the short and the long term. Electricity prices in northern Sweden decreased during the quarter. Together with weaker winds and lower precipitation than normal this means that profit from renewable energy decreased to SEK 135 million, which is a good level from a historical perspective, however. In June we were granted environmental permits for 14 wind turbines in Blisterliden outside Skellefteå and we are now preparing for an investment decision in 2024.

With our large forest holdings as a foundation, we grow houses while also harnessing the energy that blows over the treetops and flows in the rivers. We then make renewable packaging, magazines and books from the forest residues. Our strong financial position makes us well equipped to exploit the opportunities opening up in a world that is striving towards a sustainable society where raw materials and energy are in short supply.

Competition for pulpwood and logs was high in the second quarter and prices increased.

Operating profit for January-June was SEK 742 million (653). The improved profits are due to the increased price of logs and pulpwood, but the effect is partly offset by increased costs and the fact that last year's earnings included revenue from property sales.

Compared with the first quarter, second quarter earnings increased by SEK 39 million to SEK 390 million as a result of price increases and a seasonally higher share of logs.

Paperboard

Holmen supplies paperboard to the premium consumer packaging segment. Production, which takes place at one Swedish and one UK mill, amounts to just over 0.5 million tonnes a year.

Demand for paperboard was lower than normal in the second quarter. Market prices were stable.

Operating profit for January-June was SEK 250 million (530), excluding items affecting comparability. The decrease in profits is attributable to a maintenance shutdown and weaker markets. Higher selling prices and revenue from sales of excess electricity made a positive contribution, but this was offset by increased costs for chemicals and wood.

Compared with the first quarter, second quarter earnings decreased by SEK 348 million to SEK -49 million. The lower profit is attributable to a maintenance shutdown in Workington, which had a negative impact of SEK 140 million, lower sales of excess electricity and weaker market conditions.

The annual maintenance shutdown at Iggesund Mill is planned for the fourth quarter, with an expected negative impact on earnings of around SEK 200 million.

Demand for paper was weak in the second quarter. Prices decreased from historically high levels.

Operating profit for January-June was SEK 1 496 million (1 167). The increase in profit is due to higher selling prices, which is partly offset by significant production curtailments. Chemical and wood costs increased, but this was cancelled out by favourable electricity price hedges.

Compared with the first quarter, second quarter earnings decreased by SEK 177 million to SEK 659 million as a result of lower prices and the increase in electricity costs from a low level in the first quarter.

Wood Products

Holmen delivers wood products for joinery and construction purposes. Production takes place at five sawmills adjacent to own forest with an annual production of 1.5 million cubic metres.

Demand for wood products was lower than normal, but prices increased somewhat in the second quarter due to supply curtailments in several countries.

Operating profit for January-June was SEK 77 million (1 127). The decrease in profit was due to lower selling prices. The cost of logs increased, but this was offset by higher revenue from sales of wood chips and wood fuel.

Compared with the first quarter, second quarter earnings increased by SEK 32 million to SEK 55 million as a result of somewhat higher selling prices.

Ongoing investment projects to increase value added and capacity at Iggesund Sawmill mean that a longer production stoppage will be taken in the fourth quarter, with an expected negative impact on earnings of SEK 30 million.

The energy situation in Europe has improved, but electricity prices on the continent were still high. The electricity price in northern Sweden, where Holmen has most of its production, decreased to just under SEK 500/MWh in the second quarter.

Operating profit for January-June was SEK 417 million (330). The improvement in earnings is attributable to higher electricity prices, increased compensation to stabilise the electricity grid and new wind power capacity.

Compared with the first quarter, second quarter earnings decreased by SEK 147 million to SEK 135 million as a result of low production of both wind and hydro power and lower electricity prices.

Permits to install 14 wind turbines in Blisterliden outside Skellefteå were granted in June. Investment decisions may be made in 2024.

Information in accordance with IAS 34:16A can be found in the financial statements and their accompanying notes, as well as in other parts of the interim report. The consolidated accounts are prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as adopted by the EU and the Swedish Annual Accounts Act. The parent company's accounts are prepared in accordance with RFR 2 Accounting for Legal Entities and the Swedish Annual Accounts Act. New or revised IFRS and interpretative statements from IFRIC have not had any material effect on the earnings or position of the Group or the parent company. The figures in tables are rounded off.

2. Forest assets

The Group's forest assets are recognised at fair value based on the transaction prices for forest properties in those areas where the Group has forest land. Forest assets are usually valued at year-end. The total value of the forest assets is allocated across growing trees and forest land. The value of the growing trees, which is recognised in accordance with IAS 41 biological assets, is determined by calculating the present value of expected cash flows and is updated regularly during the year. Changes in value are recognised in the income statement. The value of forest land is recognised in accordance with IAS 16 and is updated when the annual value of the forest assets is calculated, and when there are acquisitions or disposals. Changes in the value of forest land are recognised in other comprehensive income.

The value of the biological assets at 30 June was SEK 30 165 million (31 Dec. 2022: 29 867). The change in value of biological assets, calculated as the net sum of the change as a result of harvesting and the unrealised change in fair value, totalled SEK 239 million for the period January-June and is recognised in the Group's operating profit. The book value of forest land at 30 June was SEK 22 294 million (31 Dec. 2022: 22 284).

Holmen measures financial instruments at fair value or cost in the balance sheet depending on their classification. In addition to items of net financial debt, excluding pension obligations and liabilities related to right-of-use assets, financial instruments include trade receivables and trade payables. Financial instruments measured at fair value in the balance sheet belong to measurement level 2 pursuant to IFRS 13 and mostly consist of electricity price, currency and interest rate hedging derivatives. Their net fair value at 30 June was SEK 320 million, which is SEK 3 513 million lower than at year-end, mainly due to the lower fair value of the electricity derivatives.

6. Alternative performance measures

Holmen uses performance measures to supplement measures defined by IFRS or directly in the income statement and balance sheet in order to clarify the company's financial position and performance.

Earnings measures

Operating profit is the principal measure of earnings that is used to monitor financial performance. This includes all income and costs except for financial items and tax. Depreciation/amortisation of non-current assets is also included. EBITDA (earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortisation) is used as a supplementary measure. To clarify how these earnings measures are affected by matters outside normal business operations, such as impairment losses, disposals, closures, major restructuring measures and breakdowns, as well as changes to assumptions in the valuation of biological assets, the term 'items affecting comparability' is used. The purpose is also to increase comparability between different periods. The effects of maintenance and rebuilding shutdowns are not treated as items affecting comparability. Operating profit for the previous year includes the net sum of SEK +266 million relating to insurance compensation and costs and the loss of revenue associated with the turbine breakdown at the paperboard mill in Workington. A description of the items that are recognised as affecting comparability in previous periods is provided on page 102 of Holmen's annual report for 2022.

Measure of margin, return and indebtedness

Operating profit, excluding items affecting comparability, as a proportion of sales, is known as the operating margin. Earnings before depreciation/amortisation as a proportion of sales are known as the EBITDA margin. The return on capital employed performance measure is used to measure operating profit, excluding items affecting comparability, as a proportion of capital employed. Capital employed is calculated as fixed assets plus working capital less the net sum of deferred tax liabilities and deferred tax assets. This corresponds to equity plus net financial debt. Average capital employed is calculated based on quarterly data.

The debt/equity ratio is calculated as net financial debt divided by equity. The equity/assets ratio is calculated as equity divided by total assets. Net financial debt consists of the following components:

There were no transactions between Holmen and related parties that had a significant effect on the company's financial position and performance.

8. Material risks and uncertainties

The Group's and the parent company's material risks and uncertainties relate primarily to changes in demand and the prices of its products, the cost of key input goods, and changes in exchange rates. For a more detailed description of the material risks and uncertainties, see Holmen's annual report for 2022, pages 53–57, and Note 27.

Holmen in brief

Holmen's extensive forest holdings are the foundation of our business. Using our own production facilities, the growing trees are refined into everything from wood for climate-smart building to renewable packaging, magazines and books, while at the same time we generate hydro and wind power on our own land. A business that not only creates value for shareholders and customers, but also contributes to a better climate and thriving rural communities..
