

Templeton Global Climate Change Fund

Class W (acc) GBP • ISIN LU2345056373 • A sub-fund of Franklin Templeton Investment Funds
The management company is Franklin Templeton International Services S.à r.l.

Objectives and Investment Policy

Templeton Global Climate Change Fund (the "Fund") is classified as Article 9 under EU Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation and aims to contribute towards climate change mitigation and adaptation as considered by the Paris Climate Agreement while increasing the value of its investments over the medium to long term.

The Fund pursues an actively managed investment strategy by investing in companies across all sectors worldwide that are good stewards of their impact on social and environmental development belonging to 3 categories:

- solution providers (more than 50% of the Fund's net assets): companies deriving a majority of revenues from activities aiming at reducing carbon emissions or improving resource efficiencies
- transitioning companies: companies making industry-leading efforts to reduce emissions or resource intensity
- resilient companies: companies having relatively low carbon and resource intensity

The Fund can invest to a lesser extent in:

- units of other mutual funds and exchange traded funds (limited to 10% of assets)
- convertible securities or debt securities
- derivatives for hedging and efficient portfolio management

The investment team uses in-depth ESG analysis to select individual equity securities of companies with favourable environmental, social and governance attributes that it believes are undervalued and will provide the best opportunities for increased value over the long term.

Benchmarks: The benchmark of the Fund is the MSCI All Country World Index-NR. The benchmark is used solely as a reference for Investors to compare against for the Fund's performance, and the benchmark is neither used as a constrained on how the Fund's portfolio is to be constructed nor set as a target for the Fund's performance to beat. The Fund can deviate from the benchmark.

You may request the sale of your shares on any Dealing Day (as defined in the current prospectus of the Fund).

The income received from the Fund's investments is accumulated with the result of increasing the value of the shares.

For further information on the Objectives and Investment Policy of the Fund, please refer to the section "Fund Information, Objectives and Investment Policies" of the current prospectus of Franklin Templeton Investment Funds.

Terms to Understand

Debt securities: Securities representing the issuer's obligation to repay a loan at a specified date and to pay interest.

Derivatives: Financial instruments whose characteristics and value depend on the performance of one or more underlying assets, typically securities, indexes, currencies or interest rates.

Equity securities: Securities that represent an ownership stake in a company.

Hedging: A strategy for totally or partially offsetting particular risks such as those arising from fluctuations in share prices, currencies or interest rates.

Money market securities: Short-term loans (typically of less than 397 days) made to their issuers by the purchasers of the security.

Risk and Reward Profile

What does this indicator mean and what are its limits?

This indicator is designed to provide you with a measure of the price movement of this share class based on historical behavior.

Historical data may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Fund. The category shown is not guaranteed to remain unchanged and may shift over time.

The lowest category does not mean risk free.

As the share class has no sufficient historical data available, simulated data based on a representative portfolio model or benchmark have been used instead.

Why is the Fund in this specific category?

The Fund invests mainly in equity securities of companies across all sectors worldwide that are good stewards of their impact on social and environmental development. Such securities have historically been subject to significant price movements that may occur suddenly due to market or company-specific factors. As a result, the performance of the Fund can fluctuate significantly over relatively short time periods.

Risks materially relevant not adequately captured by the indicator:

Sustainability risk: The fund's integration of sustainability risks in the investment decision process may have the effect of excluding profitable investments from the investment universe of the fund and may also cause the fund to sell investments that will continue to perform well. A sustainability risk could materialise due to an environmental, social or governance event or condition which may impact the fund's investments and negatively affect the returns of the fund.

Derivative Instruments risk: the risk of loss in an instrument where a small change in the value of the underlying investment may have a larger impact on the value of such instrument. Derivatives may involve additional liquidity, credit and counterparty risks.

Emerging markets risk: the risk related to investing in countries that have less developed political, economic, legal and regulatory systems, and that may be impacted by political/economic instability, lack of liquidity or transparency, or safekeeping issues.

Foreign Currency risk: the risk of loss arising from exchange-rate fluctuations or due to exchange control regulations.

For a full discussion of all the risks applicable to this Fund, please refer to the "Risk Considerations" section of the current prospectus of Franklin Templeton Investment Funds.
