Past performance is not a guide to future performance. The value and income from the fund's assets will go down as well as up. This will cause the value of your investment to fall as well as rise. There is no guarantee that the fund will achieve its objective and you may get back less than you originally invested.

Performance and attribution

- During the third quarter of 2020, the performance of the fund was in line with its benchmark, the London Interbank LIBID 7 Day Deposit Rate.
- The fund is primarily invested in reverse repurchase agreements (or 'reverse repos'), which provide collateral (typically short-term gilts) against cash deposits made by the fund. As with short-term money market deposits, reverse repos are transacted with banks from M&G's counterparty credit risk panel. At the end of this quarter, the fund's assets remained invested in reverse repos with a maturity of no more than one month.

How are fund prices calculated?

- M&G Pooled Pensions funds operate on a “single swinging” price basis. Although we create both bid and offer prices for each dealing day, the basis on which units in the fund are transacted is dependent upon the cash flow into/out of the fund on any day. If the fund has net positive cash flow on the day then it will be priced on an offer basis. If the fund has net negative cash flow on the day then it will be priced on a bid basis.
- The annual management charges are deducted from the fund before the unit prices are calculated.
- M&G Pooled Pensions funds are “forward” priced, which means that the unit price is set after money is invested. Money is invested on a “T+0” dealing cycle, which means that money received before 12.00 will be invested by close of business that day and the unit price applicable for that “valuation date” would be published by 12.00 on the following day.

What is the risk rating?

- Risk ratings have been developed by Prudential to help provide an indication of a fund’s potential level of risk and reward based on the type of assets which may be held by the fund. Other companies may use different descriptions and as such these risk ratings should not be considered as generic across the fund management industry.
- We regularly review our fund risk ratings, so they may change in the future. If, in our view, there is a material change in the fund’s level of risk, for example due to a significant change to the assets held by the fund or in the way the fund is managed, we will provide information on the new risk rating. We recommend that you make sure you understand the risk rating of any fund before you invest.
- You should also consider discussing your decision and the appropriateness of a fund’s risk rating with an adviser.
